Budget Cuts Start to Prevent License Hikes

Whole $48 Million Could Go GOP Legislators Blunt in Defiance

By CHARLES DUMAS
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Legislature's fiscal experts set out today to cut enough from Gov. Rockefeller's budget to reduce sharply or eliminate the $48-million increase he seeks in motor-vehicle registration charges.

"We can cut as much as the members will go for—the whole $48 million, if necessary," one of the fiscal-staff members told the Associated Press.

Prefer Cuts
The Legislature's Republican leaders ordered the budget-trimmers into action Tuesday night after an eventful day during which:

—GOP senators and assemblymen told their leaders bluntly at closed-door conferences that Rockefeller's program of license increases was unacceptable in its present form and they wanted the budget cut instead.

—Rockefeller told an American Legion dinner that he had made a "beast" of a mistake last summer by overestimating state revenues, a factor that he said led to his campaign pledge to hold the line on state taxes.

—Three more assemblymen joined the growing ranks of Republican "budget rebels" by declaring they would not even accept a compromise plan if it still called for an increase in motor-vehicle charges.

Developments Listed
There also were these developments on other subjects:

Reapportionment — The Republican-led Senate rejected on straight party lines a Democratic motion to force a vote on a plan for reapportioning seats in the Legislature.

Sunday Law — The leaders of Jewish groups seeking a "fair Sabbath law" that would allow businesses to stay open on Sunday said he was highly encouraged, after talks with Rockefeller and GOP leaders, that the goal might be achieved this year.

Public House — Rockefeller sent to the Legislature a measure that would create a five-member commission to overhaul and revitalize the state's public housing programs.

Rockefeller's fiscal program occupied stage-center at the Capitol, however, as the Legislature's fiscal committee (Continued on Page 21, Col. 8)

Correction
The word "persecution" instead of "prosecution" appeared inadvertently in a Tuesday report of a statement by Police Chief Robert F. Murphy emphasizing that traffic in narcotics would not be tolerated in the city, and noting that those caught would be dealt with to the full extent of the law. The statement followed the sentencing of a local young man to the Elmira Reception Center for involvement with marijuana. The word, "persecution" was not used by Chief Murphy in his statement.

Onteora to Vote April 3rd On $1,997,700 School Sum

Onteora Board of Education has voted 7 to 1 to submit a $1,997,700 building construction bond issue to the qualified voters of Onteora Central Schools District on April 3.

The three-part proposition approved by the board at its February meeting includes:

- 1) A new, 13-room school at West Hurley to be built at an estimated cost of $741,000.
- 2) A new, 13-room school in the Town of Shandaken at an estimated cost of $628,000.
- 3) Additions to the Woodstock elementary school to bring that installation up to 21 rooms and other facilities mandated by State Education Law.

Included in Issue
Included in the bond issue are costs covering purchase of 30,452 acres of land in West Hurley at $31,700 and expenditure of $13,000 for purchase of the so-called Epstein site in the Town of Shandaken. The building site charges include cost of surveys, land maps, plans and other items.

Betancourt Given High JFK Praise

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela, described by President Kennedy as "target No. 1" for dictators and Communists alike, resumes his White House talks today.

The two leaders met for an hour and 20 minutes Tuesday in a conference room called "good-very fine." The White House said they dealt with economic matters. Venezuela is a major exporter of oil to the United States.

Motorcade Scheduled
Before conferring with Kennedy this afternoon, Betancourt will lay a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery and address the National Press Club.

He and Kennedy will ride in a motorcade from the White House to the press club—a motorcade that was washed out Tuesday by rain and snow as the Venezuelan leader and his wife returned to the city where they spent 18 months in exile in 1949-50.

Betancourt will be host at a reception for Kennedy at the Venezuelan Embassy tonight.

At a White House dinner Tuesday honoring Betancourt, Kennedy said in a toast: "We wish the United States to be identified with leaders like you, liberal progressive leaders who believe that the problems of this hemisphere can be solved in cooperation under a system of freedom."

"You," Kennedy added, "have been selected as target No. 1, not only for the dictators in the last two years, but also by the Communists."

Terrorists Resume Acts
Underscoring Kennedy's remarks were reports of more violence Tuesday in Venezuela. Communist terrorists staged a series

Seized Ship Reaches Port On Amazon

BELEM, Brazil (AP)—The hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui, flying a Brazilian flag and with Brazilian diplomats and military personnel aboard, reached the Amazon River port of Macapa today.

Seeks Extradition
The ship's arrival at the sleepy equatorial port on the northern delta of the Amazon was announced by the presidential palace in Brasilia.

The Brazilian corvette Solimoes was ready to leave Macapa with the hijackers, who are expected to be interned at Belem until the Brazilian Foreign Ministry decides whether to grant them political asylum. Venezuela wants the hijackers extradited.

Ask That Voters Push PPR, Mayor Endorses System

Mayor John J. Schwenk has strongly endorsed mandatory statewide permanent personal registration according to officers of the League of Women Voters of Kingston who met with him at his offices yesterday. "I feel that this system will insure the greatest possible citizen participation in any election."

At the League's request he has sent letters to Senator MacNeil Mitchell, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, and Assemblyman John R. Brook, chairman of the Assembly Judiciary Committee, urging that mandatory state-wide PPR be brought to the floor. At present this item is being considered by these committees in the form of two identical bills: the Republican sponsored Anderson-Brook and the Democratic sponsored Bernstein-Maresca measures.

How System Works
Permanent Personal Registration is a system whereby a voter registers once, in person, has a personal description and signature recorded and thereafter remains registered as long as he stays at the same address and votes at least once in every two general elections.

The League of Women Voters of New York State has been studying registration systems since 1924 and has felt that PPR results in greater safeguards against fraud than either the old inconvenient annual registration (Continued on Page 21, Col. 1)

To Elect Two on School Board Tuesday, May 7th

Will Fill Browning Post Now President Gilday Undecided on Run

Two candidates will be elected Tuesday May 7 as members of the Board of Education of Kingston City Schools (Consolidated) one to fill out an unexpired term of four years vacated by the recent death of Robert F. (Bob) Browning, and another for a five-year term to succeed Andrew T. Gilday, 275 West Chestnut Street, whose term expires.

Gilday, incumbent president of the board, said today "at this time, I think I may not seek another term, unless there is a pressure by the people in the district." He added "it has been a very busy five years for the board of education."

To Fill Browning Post
Gilday was named chairman of the local Selective Service Board No. 18 by unanimous vote of members at a meeting held February 13. He also is office manager of the Port Ewen Plant of the Hercules Powder Co., and a member of its Quarter Century Club.

The Board of Education president said the board will meet in the near future to name a temporary member of the school board to serve until the end of May. He noted "it is the obligation of the board to fill a vacancy."

Gilday was named chairman of the Board of Education July 2, 1962, succeeding George Schneider, whose term expired and who did not seek another term. Gilday noted today "I was always in favor of Bob Browning. He was one who voted for me for the office of president of the Board."

Busy on Committees
Gilday has served on most of the committees of the board. During his term in office a new legal counsel, transportation supervisor and business manager (Continued on Page 14, Col. 5)

Kingston High Has 420 Students Out

Absenteeism in Kingston High School, reported abnormally high Tuesday, increased sharply today with 420 students and 11 teachers absent, presumably due to illness.

In a report to The Freeman yesterday, Clifford Miller, assistant superintendent of Kingston Schools said 380 out of an enrollment of 2333 did not report for classes.

1079 Are Absent
A total of 1079 pupils in Kingston Schools Consolidated were reported absent today. Absenteeism is only slightly above normal in other schools in the district.

A total of 90 failed to report in class at Port Ewen School. This is an increase of 67 over yesterday's figure. Also there were 94 absent at the morning session at MJM Junior High.

The absentee figures for other schools today are as follows: Anna Devine 6; Tilton 21; Chambers 42; George Washington 71 and three teachers; Hurley 48; School No. 4, 15; Lake Katrine 73; School No. 7, 35; School No. 8, 25; Brigham 47; Sophie G. Finn 27; Meagher (No. 5) 51; School No. 3, 12 and Emma Wygant 2.

At St. Catherine Labouré parochial school at Lake Katrine, 33 were reported absent out of an enrollment of 147.

Only Slightly Higher
Absenteeism at Saugerties Central Schools was reported only slightly higher than average, with 126 absent out of an enrollment of 1144 in the high school. At Onteora Central High only

Join GOP In Demand On Cuba No Proposals On Forcing of Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leading congressional Democrats joined several Republicans today in calling for the withdrawal of all—and not just part—of the 17,000 Soviet troops in Cuba.

A written communication to President Kennedy that Soviet Premier Khrushchev plans to ship several thousand Russian soldiers home soon was hailed as a significant development.

But members of both parties said the Kennedy administration must continue to press with all of the force at its command for complete evacuation of Soviet military men from the island.

Some informants said the Soviet Union had given assurance that several thousand troops would be out of Cuba by March 15.

No Official Comment
There was no official comment from the White House or the State Department.

John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, was reported to have told the House Foreign Affairs Committee Tuesday that several empty Soviet merchant ships were on their way to Cuba.

Dont Suggest How
While urging the administration to press for the withdrawal of all Soviet forces from Cuba, no members of Congress came forward with any concrete proposals as to how this could be accomplished short of force—a policy Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said he is convinced the Democratic administration shares.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said that while the Soviet pledge to withdraw some troops is encouraging "we cannot be complacent about it until all the Russian troops and technicians manning any weapons are removed."

Only First Step
Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., head of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, said the Soviet move was only a first step.

"Our policy must be to insist that they all be withdrawn," he said. "This is the only thing that will really remove the menace."

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., found little encouragement in the withdrawal of only a part of the Soviet garrison. He said there should not be one uniformed Russian or technician left in Cuba.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana voiced hope—that he said was shared by Kennedy—that Khrushchev will call all of his troops home.

Lid May Blow in Spring On Confused Haiti Isle

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
The lid may blow off this spring in the confused Caribbean Negro Republic of Haiti.

If an explosion comes, say reliable sources, U.S. military action may be needed to prevent a Castro-like regime from popping up on the Island of Hispaniola, only 50 miles across the strategic Windward Passage from Cuba.

Haiti, a turbulent dictatorship, shares Hispaniola with the Dominican Republic, itself freed recently from the Trujillo dictatorship.

May Leave in Hurry
Sources in touch with Port au Prince, the Haitian capital, speculate that President Francois Duvalier, dictator of the French-speaking nation of 4 million, will leave the country suddenly, before May, with the explanation he is seeking medical treatment abroad. The 55-year-old dictator has been ailing.

Informants add that if Dr. Duvalier decides to leave, he probably will turn the government over to his current interior minister, Luc F. Francois. Duvalier is a physician turned politician, known to Haitians as "Papa Doc." He has survived a dozen plots since taking office in 1957 after an election denounced by his foes as fraudulent.

Student Strike Looms
Now he may scent disaster. A general student strike against the regime is in the offing. Duvalier's secret police and militia are reported cracking down with a wave of arrests.

Reliable informants said two students were shot dead in Port au Prince's streets Friday and that the capital is being flooded with anti-Duvalier handbills. The situation is described as extremely tense. Haitians in exile all around the hemisphere are reported on the alert for an upheaval.

In 1961, during a legislative election, Duvalier faked a plebiscite and had himself declared re-elected for another full six-year term, two years before his first term was to run out. That first term expires in May.

Disturbs Army

Development Committee Reports Rapid Growth of Ulster County

During the last two years, since 1960, Ulster County has grown slightly faster than all the Mid-Hudson counties except Putnam, according to the New York State Department of Commerce.

In a report by the Industrial Development Committee of Ulster County, Chairman Clarence C. Raichle, (R), Kingston, 12th Ward supervisor, points out that Ulster County grew from its 118,804 population in 1960 to its present estimated 126,085 or 6.1 per cent. Dutchess County grew 5.4 per cent and Orange County 4.4 per cent within the same period.

"Ulster County will move ahead within the near future although it may have to wait upon further development of Orange and Rockland counties before any great amount of growth takes place." Chairman Raichle states in a report to the Ulster County Board of Supervisors released this week.

"A good example of this has been the slowness of development in Dutchess County which waited until the Putnam-Westchester area was pretty well filled up before there was any substantial growth" the committee reports.

"Ulster County is served by a network of major state highways. The New York State Thruway has three important interchanges at New Paltz, Kingston and Saugerties. This highway links the county closely to New York City for transportation. There is a two-hour scheduled bus service between Kingston and Manhattan," Raichle points out.

The Industrial Committee also points out that there are good connections to the east over the Massachusetts Turnpike by way of the Castleton Bridge Thruway link and with Route 17 Quickway at Harrison to the south. Route 209 also connects Ulster County directly with the Pennsylvania Turnpike to the south and this connection will be improved with the completion of Interstate Route 84, when that

Proposes Promotion

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller today nominated Brig. Gen. Charles G. Stevenson, retired National Guard officer, for promotion to the rank of major general on the retired list.

Stevenson, a resident of Sayville, Suffolk County, had been vice chief of staff to the governor. Rockefeller sent the nomination to the Senate for confirmation.

NATIONAL PROFESSIONAL ENGINEER WEEK is being observed from February 17 to 23. In connection with this observance the New York Telephone Company has placed a display in the State of New York National Bank, 301 Wall Street, of Telstar, a micro-wave-in-the-sky satellite which relays phone calls and TV pictures beamed to it from a ground station, amplifies them and transmits them to another station on the ground below. Through Telstar voices and TV pictures and data messages leap thousands of miles in a new and exciting way. Through recorded messages a person may listen in by telephone to a simple explanation how the operation is performed. Telstar was launched from Cape Canaveral at Bell System expense by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Ground stations at Andover, Me., and Holmdel, N. J., as well as in England and France are in operation. Telstar is a first major experimental engineering step toward a worldwide satellite communications system that was first proposed as a practical venture at Bell Laboratories. Messages and TV programs may now get through no matter how bad weather conditions may be in the lower atmosphere. As a part of National Professional Engineer Week, Walter S. Van Der Bent, of Van Der Bent Associates, and other local professional engineers will speak Thursday at a Kingston High School assembly on the advantages of an engineering education. A short movie on some of the world's great engineering feats will be shown. Shown viewing the Telstar display in the State of New York National Bank are Francis Kolts and Howard DeWitt of the bank staff. (Freeman photo)

Mahoney Declares JFK Cut Would Bring High Taxes

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney contends that the end result of President Kennedy's proposal for tax reduction and tax reform would be "higher taxes on all levels of government."

Mahoney, a Buffalo Republican, charged in a speech Tuesday night at a Lincoln Day dinner of the Saratoga County GOP Committee that the proposals could add to the burden of the average taxpayer.

The main target of the senator's attack was a plan that would permit taxpayers who itemize deductions to deduct only that part of their contributions, taxes and interest payments that exceeds five per cent of their taxable income.

Mahoney said this would mean that about 20 per cent of such taxpayers would pay more taxes than under the present system and that many others would receive little or no benefit from the general tax cut.

Amendment Has Pleasing Effect About Closing Law

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A Jewish leader says he is encouraged over prospects for passage of an amendment to the state's compulsory Sunday-closing law that would grant relief to those who observe another day of the week as their sabbath.

Howard Squadron of New York City said a meeting Tuesday with Gov. Rockefeller and legislative leaders had strengthened his hopes for action on the amendment during the current session of the Legislature.

Squadron headed a delegation of about 300 persons representing the American Jewish Congress and six co-sponsoring groups that met with about 100 legislators and state officials at a luncheon.

Women Around Jesus

NEW YORK (AP)—"It seems to me that Christendom has come to accept a highly distorted view of Jesus' relationship with women," says Webb Garrison. He says the New Testament is a man-centered set of documents, which give little attention to the women involved and yet it is clear they had major roles in Jesus' career.

Garrison's attempt to fill in the asserted gap is a book published by Bobbs-Merrill called "Women in the Life of Jesus." All the apostles except Peter, James and John actually are eclipsed by women, Garrison says.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Received a most interesting letter from Mrs. Ora Sagar of Creek Locks Road, Bloomington. She is a collector of local historical items and from time to time her items can be seen at local antique shows.

Wherever she finds pictures of local scenes that are the worse for wear she tries to save them by mounting them. Her instruction in this line has been helpful to me, and her collection and displays are as interesting as visiting a museum.

We talked on the phone and she also told me and wrote me about her visiting Mrs. Irene Bassett at the Ulster County Infirmary.

Sometime ago I had written in this column about Mrs. Bassett who is now 93 years old, and whose art work was shown at the Ulster County Fair. Mrs. Sagar wrote about Mrs. Bassett, "Despite Mrs. Bassett's 93 years she still does beautiful work with her hands and pen. Her mind is keen, a visit with her is most enjoyable and profitable, as one may discuss any subject from the Bible to making pickles and feel it was good to have done so. She remembers your first attempt at writing and she speaks of you and your father with fond memories."

Mrs. Bassett through Ora Sagar sent me one of her delightful art pieces, which I have enclosed in a cello envelope and have before me right now. Mrs. Bassett is not just an artist in her late years, but did professional hand-coloring of photographs for photographers like Miss Short on East Strand for many years. Her colors are fresh and bright and she knows how to handle a water-color brush, pen and sketch with pencil.

Mrs. Bassett's work is for sale, I understand. She has some of the Grandma Moses air about it, for they are of local scenes, with happy lively figures. The one she sent me, is postal card size, so it can be framed easily against a black cardboard background. It is of an old stone bridge, with a running brook, and two windmills, a red barn and white house with red roof. In the foreground is a farmer-lady in a sunbonnet with a long stick trying to catch running ducks with yellow beaks and webbed feet. Part of the picture is painted with water color, but some of it is made from used, cut-out postage stamps, which gives it a very interesting effect. The various colored stamps give it certain designs, like red stamps for the barns.

Mrs. Irene Eastwood Bassett signs and dates her work on the back. Her handwriting has not only been admired but she used to write social and visiting cards. Her handwriting is beautiful enough for diploma writing. I wonder if she went to a little red school house in her day. I am going to quote more from

Mrs. Ora Sagar's letter real soon, but I remember Mrs. Bassett for many years, as she used to live in Sleightsburgh when we lived in Port Ewen. She also used to come to the Orpheum at least once a week and pass our door and we used to visit. I understand she likes to know that folks remember her and enjoys visiting.

Perhaps real colorful used stamps can help her in her art work. I am sure that her happy pictures would make very welcome gifts. One of these days perhaps I will drop in and we will have a chance to talk about old times, when the Skillyput was running from Sleightsburgh to Rondout, or when the Rondout Creek froze and we walked over it.

Comedy Without Music

NEW YORK (AP)—Jule Styne and Rosalind Russell, the composed and film star of the musical "Gypsy," may team again for a screen comedy, without tunes.

"Mother Wore A Beard" is the title of a script completed by Styne in which Miss Russell has expressed interest for production next fall. The story concerns a widow whose efforts to save her daughter's marriage backfire.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Labor unrest is causing many business leaders today to review policies. General Motors, for example, says it's building up its steel stocks just in case.

Most reports from steel labor and management sources indicate small expectation of a strike this summer. There could be one if the steel workers choose to reopen the contract in a move to raise wages or fringe benefits, and if management refuses to budge from its stand on holding the cost line.

Build Up Prudent: GM
General Motors says it's only prudent to build up its stocks to around one million tons above current needs, so it wouldn't have to shut down right away in case of a strike.

This announcement set off a rise in steel stock prices, on the supposition other companies might follow suit, and steel mills have a bonanza, however short-lived.

With steel output still far below capacity and new orders coming in at only a modest rate, there ordinarily would seem to be every reason for both labor and management to avoid any showdown this year.

And neither side has been putting out belligerent statements, usually an indication of go-slow attitudes. Some observers have even doubted if the contract would be reopened at all in view of the sluggish market. Others feel it might be reopened for negotiations of minor fringe benefits.

Relations Turn Touchy

This year, however, labor-management relations have turned touchy because of the dispute over automation. And steel workers may be just as edgy about that as any other segment of the labor force.

Such demands as the steel unions have been talking about have been tied to that issue—three months vacations every five years for older workers, longer vacations for others, shorter work weeks. All these are part of labor's general proposals for spreading the work to counteract automation.

And a number of this winter's strikes have been sparked and prolonged by proposals for or fears of automation that would cut the number of jobs.

Management argues it must mechanize further because of rising labor costs or to compete with American or foreign rivals that have the latest machines. And it's finding it hard these days to raise prices to meet increased production costs.

Job security has become the hottest issue in labor circles. Some unions have struck to prevent automation or cuts in the work force assigned to any one piece of work. Many of the leaders are urging a cut in the length of the work week as the only way to combat unemployment right away.

Uncertainty Vital Role

The Kennedy administration opposes this, saying it would defeat the best way to create more jobs—getting the economic growth rate into high gear.

But neither labor nor management has accepted the administration ideas of how to accomplish this. And as the split in labor and management thinking on the problem widens, the uncertainty plays an increasingly larger role in business planning for the weeks and months ahead.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"My complaint is that they call in the choreographer when they can't solve their problems any other way," observed James Starbuck, dancer and choreographer.

"They know they have to put some movement into their shows. If they don't, people might just as well listen to a stack of records."

"But calling in a man to plan some dancing and movement late is like calling in the plumber to patch up a leak after it's done the damage."

Starbuck has been putting movement and dancing into television shows for 15 years. He has developed a specialty of supplying non-dancers — principally singers and dramatic stars with enough simple dance steps to "integrate" them into variety shows or, at least, to get them gracefully on and off stage.

It was Starbuck who turned all those celebrity guests on the old "Arthur Murray Party" into one-shot waltzers, cha-cha-chas and jitterbug practitioners. It was Starbuck who turned the 25-man "Sing Along with Mitch" chorus, a balding, middle-aged beef trust, into mobile performers.

"It was difficult," he conceded. "The men were ready, willing and able—but they had spent years standing still as backgrounds or singing jingles off-camera. We held weekly dance classes, and we showed them how to watch the cameras. The big problem to overcome was getting them so they could move with the show—but still be able to think about the lyrics."

Starbuck says his toughest problem in getting movement into the show results from Miller's practice of having the chorus record the songs in advance, but not on camera. Then he must plan the production numbers around music which is already made.

Recommended tonight: Perry Como Show, NBC, 9-10 EST — Dancer Eleanor Powell returns as guest star. "Night run to the West," CBS, 10-11 — Drama about a truck driver's adventure.

Annual Boys Club Parley Scheduled

NEW YORK—Former President Herbert Hoover announced here today that the 57th annual Boys' Clubs of America convention will be held in Toledo, O., May 19-23. Mr. Hoover has been board chairman of the national youth-guidance organization for more than 25 years.

More than 1,000 youth workers, representing some 625 Boys' Clubs and over half a million deserving youngsters, are expected to attend.

Leading business, civic and educational representatives, together with leading professionals and volunteers, will participate in more than 50 forums, workshops, demonstrations and training sessions planned to increase the youth-guidance organization's efficiency.

Working sessions will cover youth employment and school dropouts, implications of changing neighborhoods, stimulating and raising interest level of youth, and the government position in relation to youth.

The convention will be held at the Commodore Perry and Secor Hotels in Toledo.

Four different ways to make going more fun than getting there

You can see why one of America's favorite outdoor sports is driving Chevrolets, with four entirely different kinds of cars like these to choose from. There's the Jet-smooth Chevrolet, about as luxurious as you can go without going overboard in price (has lots of new lower upkeep features, too, like a flush-and-dry rocker panel ventilating system that helps remove rust-causing salt and slush); the new low-cost Chevy II, a good-looking, fun-loving car that would send any family packing; another perennial family favorite, the sporty Corvair, whose rear-engine traction will make you think that ice and snow are kid stuff; and for pure driving adventure, America's only homegrown sports car, Corvette—now in two all-new versions with looks that can stop traffic like a rush-hour blizzard. Chances are you've already picked your favorite. The next thing is to take the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's. If that doesn't have you thinking of places to go, maybe you'd rather just have a ball around town!

DISCUSS CAMP PROGRAM—Planning committee goes over plans for a special program on camping to be held Sunday 7:30 p. m. at Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers Streets. Sponsored by the Elcor-Teens of the Church, the program will

Lutheran Youth To Sponsor Camp Program Sunday

George Manos, secretary to the President of New York Synod of the Lutheran Church in America in charge of Camping and Youth Activities will be a guest speaker at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer next Sunday 7:30 p. m.

A program based on Lutheran camps in the northern section of the Synod will be sponsored by the Elcor-Teens in the assembly room of the church, Wurts and Rogers Streets.

Mr. Manos has had considerable camping experience, according to the Rev. Dr. David C. Gaise, pastor of Redeemer Church. He has been associated with the Pinecrest Lutheran League Leadership School for many years, has served as recreational director of the Lutheran Summer School for Church Workers at Silver Bay, and last summer was director of Camp Trexler, a boy's camp at Bear Mountain.

Christina Evory, Peter Schline and William Daum, committee in charge of the program, have announced plans to depict a typical day in camp, complete with traditional closing camp fire. Additional guest speakers who have been associated with the Lutheran camping programs at Mt. Tremper, Camp Ma-He-Tu for girls, Trexler, Pinecrest and Silver Bay will be the W. Sherrill Keyser family and Mrs. Louis Snell.

Miss Jean Gaise, arts and craft counselor at Ma-He-Tu, will be represented by her mother, Mrs. David C. Gaise, wife of the pastor who will also participate in the program.

Picture slides of the camps, snapshots, and descriptive literature will be used to show the facilities available at each of the five Lutheran camps in the area. The program is a service project of the young people's organization for members of the congregation and friends.

After Tragedy Takes Four Family Doing Best To Make New Start

BABYLON, N.Y. (AP) — How does a family that has lost four children in a day begin to pick up the thread of its life?

Ruth Corridan is doing it by caring for her four remaining children and by thinking of the future.

Lorraine Corridan, 11, who narrowly escaped the fate of her four sisters, returned Tuesday to grade school classes and reported afterward with some relief: "Nobody mentioned the accident."

Plan to Move Away
Joseph Francis Corridan, the father, plans to move his family to a new home, away from the drab walk-up where they had lived, away from the view from Lorraine; Kathleen, 10; Patricia, 9; and Ruth, 8.

one of the windows—away from Argyle Lake. Mrs. Corridan, 37, Mary Ann, 5, and Louise, 3, ventured onto the ice of Argyle Lake Feb. 10 and fell in. An off-duty patrolman saved Lorraine. The others drowned.

People who read of the tragedy—from as far away as Iowa, Illinois, Arizona, and Texas—have sent the Corridans more than 200 letters expressing sympathy. Several of the letters contained money for the family, which has been receiving welfare payments to supplement Corridan's $75 weekly salary.

Neighbors and even the classmates of the dead girls contributed. A friend took the family in, so it would not have to return to its former home with its tragic memories.

Trust Fund at $4,600
A neighbor, Mrs. Walter Kirby of Babylon, is coordinating a special trust fund for the Corridans. Contributions have brought the fund to over $4,600.

Corridan hopes to use the money as a down payment on a new home. His wife also is beginning to think of the future. "She has started to talk about the new house a little bit," Corridan said.

He plans to answer each of the letters of sympathy. "I don't care how long it takes," he said. As for Lorraine, the thread of her life is shorter, simpler, and perhaps a little easier to pick up. "She has returned to school," Mrs. Kirby said. "But she'll miss her sisters. They all walked hand-in-hand back and forth to school."

Castleton Man Has Note Back, Tossed Overboard in 1959

CASTLETON-on-HUDSON, N.Y. (AP)—A message in a bottle cast into the Atlantic Ocean nearly four years ago has been returned to a local teacher after being found on a beach in Scotland.

Gerrit C. Bol threw the bottled message overboard from a ship about half-way between Montreal and Southampton, Eng., on July 3, 1959.

The note, giving the name of the ship, Bol's name and address and the date, was returned to him by Mrs. Cameron R. Innes of Galagorm, Castletown, Isle of Barra, in the Outer Hebrides of Northern Scotland.

Dry Land Vessel Gets Big Sendoff, 300-Mile Voyage

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Now hear this, now hear this: The USS Yellowstone has put out to sea.

Before landlubbers ask, "So what?" read on.

The valiant USS Yellowstone is a destroyer tender—a floating collection of workshops — machine shops, electronics shops, optical, printing, photo, canvas and other specialty shops to serve the needs of 26 destroyers assigned to Mayport Naval Station.

She rarely leaves her pier. So when she was ordered out for a six-day cruise just to prove she and her crew of 589 could do it, Navy personnel at the base staged a gala bon voyage ceremony.

Capt. Frederick Radell, commander of Destroyer Squadron 16, sent a basket of empty champagne bottles to celebrate.

The Yellowstone sailed for Port Everglades, 300 miles to the south. Gifts sent to the ship before departure included several books on navigation and seamanship—plus a road map of Florida.

After leaving the harbor, the Yellowstone's skipper, Capt. J. H. King Jr., messaged: "Many thanks for your kind hospitality. I didn't know you cared."

Reserve Decision On Dismissal in Baby Slaying Case

Decision has been reserved by Supreme Court Justice William F. Christiana at Hudson on a motion to dismiss a three-count first degree murder charge pending against Mrs. Theresa Vucetic of Copake, who is accused of slaying her three children in August, 1960.

In his motion seeking dismissal of the charges, Columbia County District Attorney David Hendler noted that an extensive examination by psychiatrists revealed the defendant was legally insane at the time she allegedly slashed the throats of her children.

Mrs. Vucetic has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity. She is in the Columbia County jail following two years spent at Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminally Insane at Beacon.

Only Physician Dies
LYNDONVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. Julius L. Laver, the only resident physician in this Orleans County village, died Tuesday after suffering a heart attack. He was 57.

One Man Injured In Skidding Crash On 9W at Esopus

A 32-year-old Massachusetts man was injured at 4:10 p. m. Tuesday, when his 1960 car skidded and collided with the rear wheels of a tractor-trailer on Route 9W in the Town of Esopus.

Highland State Trooper James Spencer reported Warren Beauvais, of Lyngsboro, Mass., was taken to Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, suffering lacerations of the scalp and a cerebral concussion.

Troopers said Beauvais was traveling north on Route 9W when his car skidded off the east side of the highway, struck guard rails and then veered across Route 9W and hit the rear wheel of the tractor-trailer operated by William Van Wieren, 32, of Middletown, who escaped injury. The truck was owned by the Southern Tier Freight Lines, Middletown.

Highland troopers also received reports of several property damage accidents which resulted from the snow storm that caused slippery conditions.

Merchants Feel Parking Abuses Can Hurt Business

Three persons turned out for the public hearing Monday night in the village clerk's office to voice opinions on the proposed resolution for amending the meter ordinance to permit free parking on the village streets between October 31 and May 15.

Peter T. Murphy, chairman of the Merchants Committee for the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce, stated that he had contacted 18 members of the chamber as to their feelings and that 12 were in favor of retaining the meters on a full-year basis and five favored the discontinuance of the meters for the winter months. He said that the seven members of the Merchants Committee were unanimous in their vote to retain them. He also spoke of the abuse of the meters during the Christmas season and the recent Saugerties Sales Days when the metered parking had been abolished for those periods and residents in the vicinity of his store had parked their cars all day tying up the parking spot for area shoppers.

Mayor George Holmes stated that if the amendment should be passed there would be a stipulation in the ruling that anyone abusing the free parking ordinance would receive a heavy fine.

Also speaking on the proposed amendment were Frank Naccarato and Charles Fous.

Mayor Holmes, in answer to a question concerning the amount of revenue received from the meters, stated that it was about $10,000 when they were first installed but due to the free parking lots now available in the village, the collections are approximately half that amount. Following the regular board meeting he informed the trustees that he had polled all the business establishments on Main Street and part of Partition Street on Monday and found that 46 were in favor of the amendment on a trial basis; five said they favored the continuance of metered parking and three were neutral. The decision will be made at the next meeting of the board.

Boy Scouts Officiate

Present at Monday night's meeting of the Village Board were Senior Scouts of Boy Scout Troop 32, sponsored by the Atonement Lutheran Church, who participated in Government Day. Each boy earned the privilege by advancing at least one rank during 1962 to qualify.

Elected by his buddies to act as mayor was Assistant Senior Patrol Leader Kurt Stade, who sat on the right side of Mayor Holmes during the board meeting. Others participating were Senior Patrol Leader Charles Hudson; Patrol Leader Phillip Emerick; Patrol Leader Peter Stade; Senior Scouts Melvin Howard, Gary VanderScout and Addison Decker. Accompanying them were Scoutmaster Eugene Davis, Advancement Chairman Kurt Stade, Sr. and Charles Hudson, Troop committeeman.

The boys will receive a special pin at a later date commemorating the event.

During the regular meeting of the board the village clerk announced that five applications for the open position on the police force had been received and Jack Warns of Blue Mountain, the first to apply, had been placed on the force as a probationary officer for six months and then will take the civil service test. Other applicants were Richard Sweeney, John Kolano, Harry Vickey and Charles Van Valkenburgh.

New members approved for the R. A. Snyder Hose Company were Alan Armstrong and Jerome Daley. Donald Letzette, having served as a volunteer fireman for five years, was granted exemption papers.

Three inspectors were announced for the March elections—Catherine VanGaasbeek, Edwin Schoonmaker and Minard VanValkenburgh.

A letter from the water board was read to the trustees stating that a report from Morrell Vrooman, engineers, recommended the purchase of the Henry Lamoree property adjoining the Blue Mountain Reservoir. The property consisting of 16 acres had been offered by Lamoree to the village last year at a $16,000 figure. The property borders the present water shed and would add to the water supply for the village through the underground springs and small streams that could be diverted toward the reservoir. Mayor Holmes appointed Trustees Elton Johnson and Water Board President Frank Naccarato to confer with Lamoree on an agreement concerning the transaction.

Methodist Notes

A group of 30 ministers and wives composed of the Catskill and Kingston Sub-Districts, met at Saugerties Methodist Parsonage, 40 Finger Street Monday, for coffee at 9 a. m. The wives remained at the parsonage while the men went to the church where they were shown a new film strip on Church School Evangelism by the Rev. Alex Porteus, executive secretary of the New York Annual Conference and Richard Smith, Associate Executive secretary. A discussion followed concerning a pilot project of the Kingston District next year on evangelism in the church school. Presiding at the meeting was the District Superintendent, the Rev. George Werner. A luncheon was served by members of the WSCS to all those present.

In the evening the Rev. and Mrs. Rainear entertained members of the Mission Study Group who have been meeting the last six weeks at different homes, studying the book, "On Asia's Rim," by Andrew Roy, taught by Mrs. George Wilde. An Asian dinner was served. As a result of this course taken by 12 women there will be a project later to raise money for some of the needs in the Asian countries.

Sunday, Feb. 24, the pastor's sermon for 8:45 and 11 a. m. will be "The Creed of a Good Neighbor." Raymond Quackenbush will be the minute man speaker on the Conference Development Crusade at each service. At 2:30 p. m. service at the Finger Home and members of the youth choir will accompany the pastor; 6 p. m. Youth Fellowship meeting in charge of Robert Gilbert.

Hold Patriotic School Assembly

Main Street School children participated in a patriotic assembly on Monday of this week under the direction of Miss Ellen Barrett and Miss Mildred Brady, the vocal and instrumental music teachers of the Saugerties Schools.

The pupils entered into the assembly room to the strains of Onward Christian Soldiers played by the orchestra. The Pledge to the Flag opened the program followed by two verses of the Star Spangled Banner.

The orchestra played several selections. Accompanied by the orchestra the assembly sang Dixie, The Caissons Go Rolling Along and Yankee Doodle. John S. Oakley's sixth grade sang The Marine's Hymn; Miss Mary Bott's sixth grade sang Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean and Mrs. Dorothy Adams' sixth grade class sang When Johnny Comes Marching Home.

Area Notes

James Alexander Veltrie, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Veltrie of Barclay Lane, received the Sacrament of Holy Baptism on Sunday afternoon at St. Joseph's Church, Glasco, with the Rev. Archibald Damm officiating. Sponsors were the baby's maternal aunt, Miss Paula Barca, and Arthur Posca.

A reception was held at the home of the parents, immediately following the ritual. Present were the baby's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barca, and daughters Paula and Maureen; the baby's paternal grandparents, Mrs. and Mrs. John Veltrie; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Posca and sons Gary and Arthur; Dennis Curry, Burt Gutner and the baby's brother and sister, Joseph and Janice.

Special Series Starts Feb. 21 At Paltz Church

There will be special meetings in the new building recently constructed by the Church of the Nazarene, New Paltz. The series will be from Feb. 21 through Feb. 24.

Special speaker will be the Rev. Willis R. Scott, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, Kingston. The Rev. Mr. Scott was instrumental in starting the group in New Paltz and has supervised much of the building of the sanctuary. He is an outstanding young preacher of the gospel and was formerly a pastor and then District Home Mission worker for the Akron District of the Church of the Nazarene in Ohio.

Leland R. Davis will be in charge of the music for the revival. Mr. Davis is an accomplished singer and musician from Louisville, Ohio, and has held song evangelist commission in the Church of the Nazarene for more than 20 years. The new church is north of the village on Route 32.

The pastor, Rev. Oliver Wirth, of Hurley, cordially invites everyone to see the new building and attend services.

Authority Restrained

NEW YORK (AP)—The Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court has ruled unconstitutional the acquisition of the Hudson & Manhattan Railroad—more familiarly known as the Hudson Tubes—by the Port of New York Authority.

The court, in a 3-2 decision Tuesday, said it was issuing a temporary injunction "restraining the condemnation of the tubes and tubes properties" because of the Authority's plan to tie in the acquisition with a proposed world trade center in lower Manhattan.

27 Cars Jump Tracks

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP)—Twenty-seven cars of a New York Central Railroad freight train jumped the tracks south of here Tuesday night, dumping tons of coal over the right-of-way, police said. No injuries were reported.

The wreck tore up about one-quarter of a mile of track on the single-track line. The cars also damaged two garages of cottages along the west shore of Seneca Lake.

The train was bound for East Syracuse from Corning.

Theologian Paul Tillich says conservatism threatens American security.

Tillich, 76, who came to this country from Germany in 1933, told a news conference in Berkeley, Calif.

"Communism is not a danger here at all, but conservatism is. What is called conservatism here seems to be a nice name for fascism."

He said one of Hitler's main weapons "was to always attack the Communists when he was really attacking the liberals."

David E. Lillenthal, the first chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, says it should be reorganized so the "contours of its job confirm to our 1963 picture of the atom, not that of 1946 when it was established."

Lillenthal, AEC chairman from 1946 to 1950, made the statement in a speech at Princeton University.

Conway Spells Out 5-Point Program To Eliminate Bias

Former Ulster County Judge J. Edward Conway, now a commissioner of the State Commission for Human Rights, Tuesday gave the Albany Kiwanis Club a five-point program for every citizen to complete "the enormous task ahead" in elimination of discrimination.

Judge Conway said "people of good will must make and carry out a sincere personal commitment" to bring about the full elimination of discrimination.

His five points as he outlined them are:

1. Develop a well-thought out meaning of equality.
 2. Acquire specific and complete information on New York's anti-discrimination law.
 3. Take a stand and speak out for equal rights.
 4. Disseminate knowledge of rights and obligations under the law.
 5. Subscribe to the philosophy that undergirds the law and apply it to everyday life.
- Commissioner Conway said the performance of people in the state since the discrimination ban was enacted in 1945 was a tribute to their sense of justice. Some 65 per cent of complaints made to the commission have been dismissed as groundless, he said.

Makes Restitution

On Thursday, February 14, Nina Krom, Box 172, Rosendale, appeared before Justice of the Peace Allen Dargie, Town of Esopus, and made restitution for a check which had been given to Pantry Market, Port Ewen, and had been returned for insufficient funds. Ulster County Investigator Thomas Mayone served a subpoena in the case which charged issuance of a check without sufficient funds. Defendant told the court at the time the check was written there were funds in the bank. The matter was dismissed after the check was made good.

Gottlob Wagner Appointed As Town Board Councilman

Gottlob Wagner, president of Fire Company No. 4, Zena, was appointed councilman by the Woodstock Town Board last night.

His appointment fills the vacancy created by the resignation of John Pike several months ago. He will serve until the next general election.

Wagner's appointment, long expected, was made on motion by Justice of the Peace Rudi Baumgartner. Justice Charles Farley seconded the nomination and it was ratified unanimously.

In making the nomination unanimous, Councilman William West said there had been considerable discussion about a successor to Pike. He said that now that a person had been designated to join the board the appointment should be by unanimous action.

Rotron Employee

Wagner is employed as gardener at Rotron Manufacturing Company in Woodstock. He has been active in Republican politics since coming to the area about 10 years ago. At the present time he is a committeeman from the third district (Zena).

Before coming to the Woodstock area, he was Past Master of Schiller Masonic Lodge in Brooklyn and Past Commander of Masonic War Veterans, Post No. 22, New York City. He is a war veteran, having served three years in the infantry and 15 months overseas. During the last seven months of his Army career, he served as interpreter for criminal proceedings involving military personnel.

Re-Appoint Committee

Supervisor Molyneux moved the re-appointment of five members of the Recreation Committee and proposed the addition of the name of Edward N. Goddard. Those reappointed include: Kermit Schwarz, Joseph Forno, Sara Mulligan, Robert Breitenstein, Telford Graham. Marjorie Harder will serve as secretary of the committee and Supervisor Molyneux is ex-officio member.

The board renewed its application for state aid through the State Youth Commission.

Official forms were executed for the installation of the lighting system at the Streamside Terrace project near Sully's Bridge.

Supervisor Molyneux reported he had received an offer to have the fire tower dismantled for $250.00. The project has not been advertised for bids and will be finalized later.

Acknowledgment was made of a donation of $800 from the Tree Trust to the shade tree fund. The supervisor was also authorized to execute contracts and applications with the state highway department for work on trees in the Village Green area, Route 375 and Route 212.

Asks Clarification

Councilman William West noted a breakdown in tax rates in Woodstock which was included in a recent mailing by the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association. He said some people might have gotten an erroneous picture of the tax situation through the notice. He asked members of the press to try to clarify the structure for their readers. West said it should be pointed out that not all property owners pay the complete tax bill, viz. only those in the water district are assessed water taxes, etc.

Town Clerk Marjorie Harder reported the sale of 399 dog licenses. Monies received during the month included: $360.00 Justice of Peace fees; general taxw, $37,125.00; Fire District tax, $17,720; Woodstock light district taxes, $2,000.00; 1963 highway tax, $69,408.60; Recreation tax, $6,000; donation to tree fund, $800; state aid, $3,622.77.

Among the bills certified for payment was one of $1,391.95 to Allan L. Hanstein, Inc. of Kingston for liability insurance and another to the same company for $68.85. The Holsapple Company was paid $169.91 to dig test holes.

The board authorized payment of $50.00 annual dues to an up-state credit bureau to furnish the Planning Board with information on transfers of sub-divisions that might be transected without the knowledge of the Planning Board. It was indicated that such information would be made available on a weekly basis to the Planning Board.

Present and voting were the four members of the Town Board — Supervisor Molyneux, Councilman William West and Justices Charles A. Farley and Rudi Baumgartner.

Sidney Laufman Wins the $1,000 Altman Award

An Altman Prize for landscapes was awarded to Woodstock artist Sidney Laufman in the 138th annual exhibition of the National Academy of Design, which opens to the public Thursday in New York City.

Laufman won $1,000 for "Hillside," in which the trunks and branches of trees were suggested by deep blue conformations.

Laufman is a member of the academy. His entry was closer to abstraction than to realism, the Associated Press art critic reported.

The Altman Award is one of the most coveted prizes in the art world.

Thirty four awards — 24 of them to non-members — were announced Tuesday night.

The Edwin Palmer Memorial Prize of $1,000 went to Stephen Burr of Barrytown for "Boat Basin at 79th," which has abstract qualities.

The work of three other prominent Woodstock artists is also on exhibit at the academy. The artists are Ethel Magafan, Marion Greenwood and Nancy Summers. Work of the late Eugene Speicher is also in the exhibit.

Flight Items Enshrined

WASHINGTON (AP)—One year ago, John H. Glenn Jr. carried the American flag on a triumphant ride through space.

Today the souvenirs of that flight take their place with the other symbols of the nation's history as astronaut Glenn formally presents to the Smithsonian Institution the Friendship 7 spacecraft, his silvered space suit and the little flag.

It will be a day of memories for the Marine lieutenant colonel.

On this first anniversary of the United States' first manned orbital flight, Glenn and his family once again will see the scorched capsule that carried him three times around the earth.

Tavern Operator Pleds Guilty in Sale to Minors

Thomas J. Carpino Jr., 32, of 41 Railroad Avenue, operator of the Villanova tavern, at that address, pleaded guilty today to a charge dealing with sale of alcoholic beverages to minors, and was sentenced by Special City Judge Hugh R. Elwyn.

He was given the choice of paying a $300 fine or spending 30 days in jail, plus a suspended sentence of 30 days. The fine was paid.

Changes Plea Today

Carpino was taken into custody Jan. 18 by officers Anthony Turk and Weston Hoffay following a police investigation. It was charged that the beverage had been sold to two male persons under the age of 18.

Police Chief Robert F. Murphy, at the time hitting at the practice of serving alcoholic drinks to minors, said maximum punishment for violators would be asked in court following conviction, or admission of guilt.

The court was prepared for trial of Carpino today, but he decided to plead guilty. Attorney Frederick H. Stang appeared for him and Francis J. Vogt for the district attorney's office.

Cites Financial Support Function Of Heart Chapter

Financial support for research programs in the cardiovascular field is one of the major activities of the Heart Chapter of Ulster County. This fact was revealed today by Dewese W. DeWitt, chairman of the Heart Chapter, when he pointed out that 27 per cent of the chapter's gross income for the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1962 was devoted to research activity.

Most of the money was expended through the National Research Program supported by the American Heart Association, which last year allocated over $4,000,000 or 59.2 per cent of its total income, for 521 grants to doctors and scientists engaged in cardiovascular studies. The AHA's non-governmental source of support for heart research, and since 1948 a total of $80,000,000 has been channeled into cardiovascular disease.

In addition to supporting the National Research Program, the Heart Chapter of Ulster County also made a direct contribution to Dr. Allan Stranahan's medical research team at the Albany Medical Center, Albany.

More than 10 million Americans, noted DeWitt, are afflicted with diseases of the heart and circulatory system, including half a million children. Each year these diseases cause over 900,000 deaths in the United States, accounting for more than 50 per cent of the annual death rate. Additionally, hundreds of thousands of others are severely crippled or disabled as a result of heart and circulatory impairment.

DeWitt concluded by stating that February is observed nationally as Heart Month and is the one time of year when funds are raised for the fight against heart disease. These funds, 67 per cent of which are retained in Ulster County, are used for the programs of research and public education and community services. These essential programs can continue only if they are supported through the donations of all of us. We should all give generously and be thankful we can."

100 Attend GOP For Lincoln in Rochester Town

A "Lincoln Day Gala" sponsored by the Town of Rochester Republican Club at Pine Grove Hotel, was a great success despite the inclement weather. There were about 100 men and women present for the evening program of entertainment and refreshments. Rodney Basten entertained at the console of the organ while guests dined.

W. H. Krom, town assessor, served as master of ceremonies and opened the program with group singing "Your Land and My Land" after which county and town officials were presented. Supervisor A. Richard Terwilliger congratulated the club on its program and its progressive spirit.

Entertainment included a male sextette singing familiar songs, followed by Laurence Polli on the accordion.

Guest speaker Robert Creig, vice president of the New York State Farm Bureau, was introduced by Krom. Creig gave a statistical report on farming in New York and the nation.

The program was then turned over to The Rochester Quartet, an orchestra which provided music for the remainder of the evening.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held Tuesday, March 5, at 8 p. m. in the Accord fire hall. Election of officers will be held and a color film will be shown. All interested in becoming new members are urged to attend this meeting.

Hospitals have not found it necessary to take such precautions at this time.

The picture across the state and nation as reported by The Associated Press indicates that Asian flu and other respiratory ailments are sweeping over much of the nation.

Schools Closed. Many schools report large numbers of pupils absent because of flu. Several have closed as a health safety precaution and others are considering suspending classes.

No estimate is available of manhours lost in business and industry because of respiratory illnesses.

Hundreds of deaths have been reported.

Although new outbreaks of Asian flu have occurred, a health official expressed hope Tuesday that the wave of influenza-like infection will begin to wane with the approach of spring.

Reported in Midwest. Flu of the Asian variety now has been reported in Michigan and Minnesota, and authorities say the outbreak which hit hard in West Virginia probably is Asian flu.

Previously, the U.S. Public Health Service's Communicable Disease Center at Atlanta had confirmed Asian flu in the District of Columbia and North Carolina, Maryland, New York, Illinois and Kansas.

A spokesman at the disease center said if the flu-like ailment does not begin spreading more swiftly, there is hope that its toll in sickness and deaths will not be too great before the milder weather of approaching spring.

School closings have been reported in northern New York State (Herkimer-DeKalb); Goshen, Ohio, about 15 miles northwest of Cincinnati; Henryetta, Okla.; and Putnam County, N.Y. At Jamestown, N.Y., more than 750 of the school system's 8,419 pupils are out and officials said if another 100 drop out the schools will be closed.

High absenteeism is reported at schools in St. Louis, Portland, Maine, Cincinnati and Kanawha County, W.Va., the state's largest county.

Treated 1,600. Cook County Hospital at Chicago treated a record 1,600 children for respiratory ailments in 48 hours, with no sign of a lull. The hospital director, Dr. Karl A. Meyer, said the cases for the most part are a mild flu-type infection and definitely not of the Asian strain.

Explain Program For War Orphans

Charles Culver, State Veterans Counselor, New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs and John B. Tyler, director of the Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency, said today that in order for a child to take advantage of the assistance offered under the War Orphans Educational Program, it is not necessary that both parents of the child be deceased.

"An orphan may have one parent alive and still be eligible for education under the program. Recently, confusion has existed due to the usual understanding that an 'orphan' is one that has lost both parents," Culver and Tyler said.

Explaining the program, Culver and Tyler further said that to take advantage of this opportunity, a child must generally be between 18 and 23 years of age, inclusive, and that the Act is designed principally to aid the eligible student to pursue a college education. Regular High School training is not included, but certain below college level education is permissible under the Act.

Further information concerning entitlement to training under the War Orphans Educational Program or to any question concerning veterans' benefits, the office of Culver and Tyler at 32 Main Street should be contacted. Office hours are: Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

At present the board is, actively engaged in planning for the new Hasbrouck Park school. At the May election voters will elect a board member to serve out the unexpired term of the late Bob Browning, who was elected in May, 1962, for a five-year term.

Interviews Set Tonight

The Nonpartisan Nominating Committee will meet at 8 p. m. today at the George Washington School to begin interviewing prospective candidates for the Board of Education.

Joseph McCann, vice chairman of the committee, will preside at tonight's session in the absence of Abraham Streifer, chairman, who is vacationing.

The committee is composed of representatives of area non-partisan organizations and members-at-large. The group was formed in January, 1961, "to bring forth from the school district and elect the most able and best qualified candidates for the school board."

Choices Popular

In the last two elections, three of the candidates endorsed by the committee were elected to the board.

Any resident of the school district who meets the legal qualifications for election to the board may submit his name to the Nonpartisan Committee for consideration, or apply to Mrs. Eve Murphy at 48 Van Buren Street.

Farmers Urging Expenditure Cut To Balance Budget

One-hundred seventy Farm Bureau leaders urged the State of New York to cut expenditures to bring the budget into balance according to William E. Bensley, New York Farm Bureau president.

"We again emphasize that the Pay-As-You-Go policy is sound procedure as established by the Farm Bureau voting delegates at the state annual meeting last November," Bensley said.

In view of the fact that the economic growth has been less than anticipated to provide needed revenue to balance the budget, we recommend that expenditures be cut to bring it into balance."

Farm Bureau was meeting at Hotel Utica for a two-day State Institute for county Farm Bureau leaders from throughout the state. Thursday evening, E. H. Fallon, general manager of cooperative GLF, urged farmers to use their own organizations and not turn decision making over to government.

Zoning, Planning Boards Revoke Building Permit

Building permits issued to Stanley Hasbrouck and Stanley Hasbrouck Jr., were revoked at a recent meeting of the Town Zoning Board of Appeals and Town Planning Board, pending further investigation.

The boards reported numerous complaints about a building being constructed by the younger Hasbrouck, after he obtained a permit with approval of town attorney Peter Harp.

The Zoning Board of Appeals apparently held that the building was in violation of a zoning ordinance. Plans called for a four-car garage, and reportedly were revised to provide for a two-car garage.

Two of the garages originally were to be used by two tenants, and the other two for storage of Hasbrouck's truck and construction equipment, which he had previously kept in his yard.

In the case of the elder Hasbrouck, who has built three homes on two building lots in a development on the Modena Road, the structures reportedly were short of the required space allotted building lines. When Hasbrouck asked permission from the Planning Board to build three homes in the two lots, the board said it would not interfere if other families in the development agreed and that the sewer and water lines met Board of Health specifications.

No further action was taken because building inspector Grant Sheeley was reported in Florida and not due back until April 1. Sheeley issued building permits to both contractors before construction began.

Since the building started, however, protests have been sounded. With the structures almost completed, the Board of Appeals has taken measures to condemn them. Other properties allegedly have been found to lack compliance with the zoning laws. It was reported that in some cases variances have been approved while in other cases they have been denied.

Richard Lent appeared as attorney for the elder Hasbrouck. In other business of zoning and planning boards:

Malcolm Taylor was requested to move his trailer further back from Route 208 and Cedar Lane. Jack Erman, who maintains a machine shop in a barn on Route 32, was granted permission to continue his business as it was in compliance with industrial zoning.

Abe Paradise, Board of Appeals chairman, asked Harp to send out letters immediately to those having signs in violation of the zoning ordinance to take them down or come into compliance with the regulations.

BRIDGE South Plays For Overtrick

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

North looked over his 18 points carefully and decided to settle for what he hoped to be a safe small slam. Hence, his leap to six no-trump.

West opened the queen of diamonds and when South started to think before playing from dummy, North remarked, "I hope we aren't too high."

South replied, "No, I am trying to figure out the best way to go after an overtrick. I can count 12 tricks off the top."

South's count included three spade tricks. He might have let the queen make, but his other three spades were sure to be good. A little more study showed South that his only real play for that thirteenth trick lay in getting four spade tricks instead of three and that he would get them if he could find West with the queen and not more than two small spades to back it up.

After this cogitation, South won the diamond in his own hand; led a spade toward dummy, finessed the ten, cashed the ace, ran off four clubs and three hearts to wind up in his own hand and then led the king of spades.

The queen dropped and South had his overtrick.

Why did South play his clubs and hearts first? Because there just might have been a squeeze, in the unlikely event that West had stated with four spades and four diamonds.

Ever sprinkle sesame seeds on that homemade bread dough? Do so after the loaf has been shaped and is ready for the second rising.

National Economy Partially Blamed For State Position

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller apparently wants President Kennedy to share some of the blame for the controversial fee increases Rockefeller is seeking this year.

The Republican governor told a State American Legion dinner Tuesday night that he had expected more state revenue for the coming fiscal year through growth in the national economy.

He said he estimated last summer that revenues would be $2.9 billion—exactly the sum needed to balance his new, record state budget—and, on this basis, made his campaign pledge to hold the line on state taxes.

As it turned out, however, he explained, the gross national product fell below estimates of the national administration and this forced him last month to revised his revenue estimates downward by $200 million.

In discussing his revenue estimates, Rockefeller recalled that New York City's late Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia used to say "when I make a mistake, I make a beautiful one."

Rockefeller said: "Tonight, I want to admit to such a mistake."

Marquette Income Up

CHICAGO—In a preliminary release today, Marquette Cement Manufacturing Company reported net income, after taxes, for the fourth quarter, of 1962 was $2,371,362 or 70 cents per common share on receipts amounting to $18,999,166. This compares with net income of $2,331,702 or 69 cents per common share on receipts totaling $18,875,324 for the fourth quarter of 1961. Net income for the 12 months ended December 31, 1962, was $10,148,089 or $2.98 per common share, compared with $10,590,092 or $3.11 per share for the same period a year ago. This was achieved on receipts totaling $81,461,923 in 1962, against receipts of $80,175,808 for 1961.

Coast Guard Will Change Radiobeacons

NEW YORK — Radiobeacons operated by the United States Coast Guard will be changed in operating frequency and method of operation during the summer of 1963. On the East Coast about half the changes will take place on June 4 and the rest on June 11.

The present method of time sharing frequencies was established in 1929. This method of operation was placed in effect in order to reduce interference and to allow for expansion of the system. Since 1929 the number of marine radiobeacons operated by the United States has grown from 64 to 191 with only a small increase in frequency band allocation for their use.

This has resulted in saturation of the band and insufficient frequency separation for acceptable accuracy. Recently new urgently needed radiobeacons have been added at the expense of risking interference with existing beacons. In order to correct this situation and to increase the efficiency of the service, changes in the method of operation of the marine radiobeacon system will take place.

The major changes are the sequencing of six radiobeacons on a single frequency, the elimination of the distinction between fair and foul weather operation, the adjustment of service ranges, the incorporation of a long dash at the end of the characteristic identifier and continuous carrier tone-keyed modulation.

In the system of time sharing, the six beacons to be sequenced will each transmit for a period of one minute in consecutive rotation without any off

National Economy Partially Blamed For State Position

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller apparently wants President Kennedy to share some of the blame for the controversial fee increases Rockefeller is seeking this year.

The Republican governor told a State American Legion dinner Tuesday night that he had expected more state revenue for the coming fiscal year through growth in the national economy.

He said he estimated last summer that revenues would be $2.9 billion—exactly the sum needed to balance his new, record state budget—and, on this basis, made his campaign pledge to hold the line on state taxes.

As it turned out, however, he explained, the gross national product fell below estimates of the national administration and this forced him last month to revised his revenue estimates downward by $200 million.

In discussing his revenue estimates, Rockefeller recalled that New York City's late Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia used to say "when I make a mistake, I make a beautiful one."

Rockefeller said: "Tonight, I want to admit to such a mistake."

Marquette Income Up

CHICAGO—In a preliminary release today, Marquette Cement Manufacturing Company reported net income, after taxes, for the fourth quarter, of 1962 was $2,371,362 or 70 cents per common share on receipts amounting to $18,999,166. This compares with net income of $2,331,702 or 69 cents per common share on receipts totaling $18,875,324 for the fourth quarter of 1961. Net income for the 12 months ended December 31, 1962, was $10,148,089 or $2.98 per common share, compared with $10,590,092 or $3.11 per share for the same period a year ago. This was achieved on receipts totaling $81,461,923 in 1962, against receipts of $80,175,808 for 1961.

Albany Mailings

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Thirty-five envelopes bearing the word "pornography" in large block letters on the outside and containing blank sheets of paper were mailed recently in the Albany area.

Eleven of the envelopes were delivered to the addressees, the Albany Times-Union reported in today's editions.

As an experiment, Hal Kallenburg, assistant city editor of the Times-Union, mailed the 35 envelopes to three employees of the newspaper's editorial department.

He said 17 of the letters were seized by postal inspectors. The addressees were called to the post office and were asked to open the envelopes in the presence of the inspectors.

The seven envelopes still not accounted for presumably are in the dead-letter office.

$1.3 Million Loan Approved for Mill

NORFOLK, N.Y. (AP) — The federal government will lend the Norfolk Development Corp. $1.3 million to help finance the reopening of a paper mill in this Northern New York hamlet.

Al Smith, corporation president, said Tuesday that Rep. Clarence E. Kilburn, a Malone Republican, had notified him that the loan had been approved by the Area Redevelopment Administration and the Small Business Administration.

The plant is expected to employ 100 to 150 persons, and about the same number is expected to be employed in allied operations, Smith said.

The money will be used by the corporation to rehabilitate the Norfolk Paper Mill. Smith said the mill would be leased to the St. Lawrence Pulp and Paper Co., which has agreed to operate it.

No date has been set for the opening.

Earlier, the State Job Development Authority approved a $210,000 loan for the project.

School to Stay

Illness Blamed

HERMON, N.Y. (AP) — The Hermon-Dekalb Central School closed Tuesday and will remain closed for the remainder of the week because of a high incidence of illness among students.

John Hollands, supervising principal, said that about 25 percent of the school's 740 pupils were absent Tuesday. Most of the absences, he said, were due to upper respiratory ailments.

The school serves two St. Lawrence county communities.

Flu-like illnesses forced the closing of four schools in other Upstate communities last week. Only one case of Asian flu has been confirmed in the Upstate area, however. It was in Albany.

Meanwhile, the Jamestown public school system reported that more than 750 pupils were absent Tuesday. Most absences were the result of respiratory illnesses, officials said.

Use Company-Owned Planes
To Save Business Men Money

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Business men are flying millions of miles yearly in company-owned planes to save time and money.

The growth of corporation flying since World War II has been phenomenal.

Some Have Fleets
Some big companies have fleets that exceed those of commercial feeder airlines. Smaller companies often depend upon a single aircraft.

"I get the speed I need," says James Dederian, president of the 32-employee Merrimack Wood Products Co. of Lowell, Mass., who pilots his own plane on company business. "And when I call on a buyer or supplier I've already made a favorable impression for my company by pulling up in an airplane."

At the other end of the scale, giant General Motors Corp. operates 20 planes.

"Our fleet serves a number of purposes," says a GM spokesman. "Among other jobs, it currently is ferrying lawyers and executives to the West Coast for the anti-trust trial there. It can and often does save time and money as well as serve as a convenience."

Sparks Air Age
After World War II the availability of surplus military aircraft, the return to civilian life of many trained pilots, and the expansion of companies into new geographical areas, helped spark the air age in business.

It is estimated that 34,500 planes are owned by more than 18,000 firms with about 22,000 used primarily for business.

Six companies making private planes—Aero Commander, Beech, Cessna, Champion, Mooney and Piper—reported selling 6,778 business and utility aircraft at a total cost of $180 million in 1962.

Transportation of personnel is the prime function of business planes but they help earn their keep by rushing parts to repair machinery breakdowns and merchandise to meet urgent need.

Have Suites
The most recent trend has been to multiengine aircraft flown by professional pilots. Some of these big aircraft are actually airborne executive suites with seats grouped about a desk so officials can work and confer while aloft.

The NBAA reports that in 1960 professional pilots were employed to man 7,100 aircraft flown primarily in business transportation by corporations.

However, there have been tragedies which have caused corporations to question the advisability of executive flying.

In 1959, a Continental Can Co. plane crashed in Ohio, killing eight executives and two pilots. In 1956, eight Crane Co. employees, including six top officials, perished when their plane went down near Louisville, Ky.

Teetsel Not Looking For New Site Now

Robert E. Teetsel, proprietor of The Barn on Route 28 just across the Washington Avenue viaduct, yesterday said he had not acquired another site north of Kingston for restaurant purposes.

The Barn, located on the site of the approach to the new bridge which will span the Esopus Creek from the Town of Ulster to Kingston, will be razed to make room for the new highway and bridge approach. Teetsel said he would remain in business at The Barn at least until March. Presently he is disposing of the equipment at The Barn restaurant in preparation to closing when the state takes over the premises and begins work on the new bridge.

Teetsel said at present he was not looking for a new site for a restaurant.

Can We Legislate Farm Prosperity?

By JOHN STROHM
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — If you heard your doctor was treating all his patients with one tonic, you would swear he was crazy. Yet politicians have been trying for 30 years to cure the ills of all farmers with a serum called the "farm program."

Despite three decades of failures costing taxpayers $48.6 billion, government planners are trying to convince Congress again this year that farm prosperity can be legislated—through controlled scarcity.

I've surveyed land grant college agricultural economists in 30 states. Their overwhelming conviction: Legislation has not solved, and will not solve the farm problem—although "the right kind might help."

These specialists know the farm problem better than anyone in the country. They are economic doctors, not political doctors. There is no party prestige at stake, no threat of being clobbered at the polls by voters for taking the stand they do.

Four out of five believe farm program money is not being spent wisely. Mervin Smith, chairman of the agricultural economics department at Ohio State University, says:

Legislation may even have intensified the farm problem and retarded the real adjustments needed."

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman's intentions are good: Help farmers who can't make a decent living. But his program is missing the target badly. IBM machines doling out your tax dollars don't recognize need. Farmers who need help most get the least.

The real farm problem is a social problem—a million farmers who no longer are needed to produce our food and fiber, because farm workers using mechanical muscles and scientific know-how produce three times as much per man now as they did 20 years ago.

It doesn't make any more sense to legislate higher income for farmers who should not be farming than it would to pay grocery store owners for selling less produce, so the underfinanced and less efficient corner grocer can stay in business.

Should Taxpayers Be Excited?

Yes, because your tax bill already takes the biggest single slice of your family income. The average taxpayer shelled out nearly $100 last year for the farm program.

Although still the greatest bargain you have, food is the second biggest item in your family budget. If government raises farm prices through controlled scarcity (one of the original aims of the Kennedy administration), career economists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture say food prices would jump 25 per cent. Give a farmer 4 cents a quart more for milk, and the housewife will pay at least 4 cents more. If the hog producer gets $3 per hundredweight more, your pork chops will cost 5 cents a pound more.

Should We Be Concerned

The Farm Bureau — the nation's largest farm organization — says government already has eroded seriously into a farmer's freedom to plan. More than 1,500 wheat farmers have been fined or had their farms auctioned off for growing more wheat than their allotted acreage—even though they fed the grain to their own livestock on their own farms.

Farm programs have lost us foreign markets. Larry Simerl, economist at the University of Illinois, says, "We can't have freer trade and still prop domestic farm prices above the world."

Cotton, supported at high prices, is losing out to synthetics at home, too.

It flabbergasts American experts I talked with in the Far East to think that we're stepping up efforts to have scarcity down on the farm at the time when half the world is hungry and when the Communists are lashing farmers to greater effort to keep their people from starving.

Do Farm Programs Help?

Farmers who produce most of the total output have no farm program, and for the most part want none. "We are in best adjustment for livestock, fruits, and vegetables, on which farmers make their own decisions," says Don Paarlberg, economist at Purdue University. "We are in poorest adjustment for wheat and the feed grains on which the government sets the price and production pattern."

Hog producers and cattle raisers have successfully resisted attempts to force a government "help" program on them, and they represent two of the healthiest segments of agriculture.

Wheat, which alone has cost taxpayers $10 billion, still is in worst trouble of all crops.

The underemployed farmer, who needs help most gets the least, because he has less land to take out of production for retirement payments, and he has less to sell at price supported levels.

"The price support approach has had little real effect on income of the small farmer," says Fred Saunders, economist at the University of Georgia. Others feel government payments actually have harmed small farmers, encouraging them to hang on and to hope when they might have been better off in nonfarm jobs.

"In one sense, successful farmers have been hurt, too, because of the unwarranted public image of charitable handouts," says Alan Bird, economist at the University of Massachusetts.

What About Crop Surpluses?

Surpluses are made in Washington. As long as government offers to pay more than market price for corn or cotton, surpluses will pile up. Uncle Sam could quickly own surpluses of beer, buggy whips and neckties if he outbid the market for those items.

Is There a Solution?

Yes. If politicians are willing to tackle the real problem: Surplus of farmers—not corn, wheat or cotton.

"If Secretary Freeman had free reign to all farm programs of the last 20 years and a $10 billion budget, it still wouldn't be possible to correct economic imbalance in agriculture," is the opinion of T. W. Schultz, head of the economics department at the University of Chicago.

"None of our programs have been aimed at increasing human resources," explains Schultz. "They only increase land value."

"Basic philosophy of the 1963 program still is inconsistent with national economic growth and progress," says Donald Kador, economist at Iowa State University. "It employs resources instead of getting them reallocated to more productive employment."

Jersey Man Named to Huguenot Historical Society Board; Activities Are Scheduled

At a regular meeting of the board of trustees, Huguenot Historical Society, New Paltz, Frank Freer, 22 Lowell Place, West Orange, N. J., was elected to the board of trustees. Mr. Freer represents the Freer-Low Family and Friends of the Freer House, New Paltz.

The meeting was held at the home of Kenneth E. Hasbrouck, president of the society.

The treasurer, Walter Hasbrouck, gave a complete survey of the finances of the organization which have become rather complex due to the fact that there are four houses owned by the society. A fifth house will soon be added. Seventy life members have been added to the society during the past five months, 45 of whom are new members.

The Huguenot Historical Society now has over one thousand members and continues to grow each day. The main purpose of the organization is the preservation of the houses on Huguenot Street and the maintenance of conditions on the street in keeping with the historical significance of "the Oldest Street in America with its Original Houses."

The Abraham Hasbrouck House is under the care of the Hasbrouck Family Association. This group operates under the roof of the Historical Society as does the Freer-Low Group. Membership in the various memberships of the society is not by any means limited to descendants of old families. Any person interested in the Old Street and preservation of the houses may be a member.

The group keeps a complete genealogical file on all descendants and families of Ulster County. People from all parts of the nation came to New Paltz, or write asking for aid, as New Paltz has become a central location for genealogical and historical data.

William Heidgerd and Walter Hasbrouck made an extensive report on the insurance picture in relation to the houses. It has been made evident through experiences of like societies that there must be a complete survey made every so often to keep insurance needs in line with present day economic conditions.

The Dorothy Ratterman gift of paintings last summer was discussed and plans for an exhibition for the spring of 1963 is planned. This may be in conjunction with the E. L. Henry exhibit in April.

Harold Wood was appointed chairman of house and grounds, assisted by Walter Hasbrouck and William Heidgerd.

Mrs. William Heidgerd was appointed chairman of publications, assisted by Lee Heinze, Miss Helena LeFevre and Mrs. Janet Jeanneney. It is hoped that a quarterly will be forthcoming from the Historical Society.

Stone House Day was discussed and the Historical Society will aid the members of the Reformed Dutch Church by staffing houses and placing each of its five houses in readiness for the event. Stone House Day will be held on Aug. 3 this year. This is now a traditional event, held on the first Saturday in August each year.

Philip LeFevre was appointed chairman of finance with the assistance of Andrew J. Snyder and Jay LeFevre.

The annual luncheon and meeting of the Society will be held on Saturday, June 15. Other events during the year include the Freer-Low meeting, June 29 and the Hasbrouck Family Association meeting, Oct. 11. Webb Kniffen will once again head the committee for publicity in the village.

The board of trustees of the society will soon be making a drive for a new annual members.

We The Women Straight From the Shoulder

Pity the poor parents who listens to all the child-rearing advice handed out by the experts, and who tries to abide by it.

Take this bit of high-sounding advice from an eminent psychologist, for example:

"The challenge of being a parent is in switching roles. He must be an autocrat in the beginning, a benevolent despot in early childhood, and offer a form of democratic leadership to a student in adolescence."

Just what form of "democratic leadership" can a parent use to

BRIDEGROOM'S PARENTS EXPECTED AN INVITATION

Q: Our son is marrying a girl from another city. We met her once when she spent a weekend here at our house. We have never met her parents. The invitations to their wedding have been sent out but we did not receive one. I think we should have received an invitation from the bride's parents especially since they are strangers. Our son tells us that our presence is taken for granted and no invitation is necessary. I feel that we are not welcome at the wedding.

A: Correctly, an invitation is sent to the bridegroom's parents because they are naturally interested in seeing them. But the fact that you did not receive one certainly does not mean that you are not invited to your own son's wedding, and as he himself has said, the bride's family are undoubtedly taking your presence for granted.

Marking Table Silver

Q: I am going to have my silver marked and have been told by the engraver that the initials should be placed so that they appear right side up to the user. I always thought it was the other way around. Is this something new in marking table silver?

A: Knives, forks and spoons are properly marked so that when they are set on the table, the initials appear right side up to the person seated on the opposite side.

A Divorcee's Rings

Q: Is it wrong for me, a divorcee, to continue wearing my engagement and wedding rings if I want to? My friends tell me it is wrong because according to law I'm no longer married. I have no children if that makes a difference.

A: If it doesn't make you unhappy to wear them, there is certainly no reason why you may not do so. Usually, a divorcee discards her wedding ring because it is a reminder of an unhappy marriage and replaces it with another ring that looks like a wedding ring and wears it on her right hand to show that she has been married.

"Known for Quality Merchandise"

The Mature Parent

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Forgiveness Takes Time

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My ex-husband's mother has started writing me letters about how old she's getting and how she wants to see my 8-year-old boy — "my only grandchild" she calls him. This is the woman who broke up my marriage and told me that was what she intended. Now that her own son has become a hopeless alcoholic, I suppose she wants to go to work on mine. I know that I sound un-Christian but she is a terrible woman. . . .

Answer: But you don't have to see her.

If you were sure of your own right to reject all personal contact with her, I think you would be able to let your child meet her — and allow him to evolve his own wish to see or not to see her again.

So let's see if we can clarify your right to avoid her.

"And lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil" is a quotation from a prayer with which we are both familiar.

Can you see that the temptation which is testing you is the obligation to show a good will toward a woman for whom you do not feel it? It is trying to lead you beyond your moral strength. Once you see this, you can reject it. You can refuse the obligation to rush yourself over your struggle with resentment.

(At the same time we can both hope the struggle will ultimately result in that "forgiveness" of enemies which Jesus commanded.)

You will lose the need to pretend to forgiveness before it has been achieved and so be delivered from evil — the evil of self-falsification.

It is honesty in you which is resisting personal contact with your ex-mother-in-law and I strongly urge you to support it. If you can accept your unrelenting feelings for her, you'll have no trouble allowing your child to experience whatever he wants to feel for her. And you will find yourself quite capable of organizing a meeting for them in which you make no appearance yourself.

If I may say so, the idea that we must immediately offer our left cheek to the enemy who has slapped our right one is bound to produce the kind of panic you feel. We all need time to pass before we can bless our enemies. The view that we must forgive them at once results only in a hate of our own falseness that makes "love" of our enemies a sterile and meaningless farce. (All rights reserved. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Local Hadassah Members View Film On Israeli Center; Scheduled Events

Members of the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah viewed a film on the new Hadassah medical center in Israel at their Monday evening meeting at Temple Emanuel. Mrs. Robert S. Yallum presided.

The color film showed life and work among patients and staff in the new center, which combines the facilities of one of the most modern hospitals in the world with a medical school and facilities for research.

Mrs. Sidney Halpern was in charge of arrangements for the program; Alvin Motzkin volunteered his time and equipment to show the national Hadassah presentation. Mrs. Maurice Crystal was in charge of refreshments.

An imaginative table display depicting Hadassah Medical Organization was arranged by Mrs. Milton Dubin, with equipment loaned by Elston's Sport Shop.

Mrs. Alfred Zamm, new recording secretary, was introduced. Mrs. Arthur Landesman, vice president, outlined Hadassah's Donor projects through which the organization raises its quotas for HMO and the medical center.

Mrs. Yallum announced a regional midwinter conference to be held Wednesday, Feb. 27, in Newburgh. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Arthur Ellis, Hadassah's representative to the United Nations. Those who would like to attend should contact Mrs. Yallum.

Mrs. Harold Newman has been named chairman of a special project, with an Afghan made and donated by Mrs. Mrs. Bertha Smolen of Hurley as award.

Members working on the current Jewish National Fund drive were asked to complete their lists and turn in proceeds to Mrs. Robert A. Ronder and Mrs. Edward Weissman, co-chairmen, as soon as possible.

Mrs. Yallum requested that all women who have been Hadassah members for 25 years or more or know of such members contact her this week.

Now underway is a special HMO benefit, with Mrs. Robert Nadler as chairman. A portable television set will be awarded at the group's March 11 meeting.

Other donor projects include Eye Bank Day set for May 15, with the Mmes. Sidney Halpern and Sheldon Levy in charge; the spring "New and Nearly New Shop" April 22-26, with the Mmes. Robert E. Davis and Carl Bernstein as co-chairmen; and the annual HMO advertising campaign published in The Kingston Daily Freeman, with Mrs. Sherman Kent in charge. Members who would like to work on any project may contact the chairmen. In addition, members work on individual projects, such as selling items or holding luncheons and card parties in their homes. Anyone who wishes ideas on ways to raise donors may contact the chairmen, the Mmes. Arthur and Alvin Motzkin, or Mrs. Arthur Landesman.

Members who raise a specific amount for the organization and their escorts will be Hadassah's guests at a gala "Day at the Nevele," Sunday, June 9, with a full day of sports activities, cocktail hour, dinner dance and entertainment.

HMO advertisers were invited to see Monday night's film presentation through letters sent out by Mrs. Kent, aided by the Mmes. Sandra Neulinger and Stewart Ritchie.

Wagner Chorale Will Appear at New Paltz College

The Roger Wagner Chorale, widely regarded as America's finest singing group, will appear at the State University College, New Paltz, next week during its second North American tour. It is presented as the college's third Artist Series production during the current academic year. The chorale is scheduled to perform in the College Auditorium Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 27 and 28, at 8:30 p. m.

Originally formed 14 years ago in Southern California, the chorale has toured widely in North and South America and in Europe. It has received such honors as to be invited to perform in London during Queen Elizabeth's Coronation Season and was chosen by the President's Special International Program for Cultural Presentations to tour ten Latin American countries last year.

First winning distinction for its series of notable performances with Alfred Wallenstein and the Los Angeles Philharmonic, the chorale has since recorded extensively for Capitol Records in a series of best-selling recordings ranging from folk songs, sea chanties and Christmas carols to the great masses, cantatas and madrigals of Bach, Monteverdi, Palestrina and Vaughan Williams. It has also reached millions of viewers on major television shows.

Tickets for either performance may be obtained by writing to or calling the college bookstore.

We The Women Help? No, Thank You

BY RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It's often best to say "No, thank you" to the helpful offers of others, especially to those who say—

"I can get it for you wholesale." Chances are you'll end up with a substitute for what you really wanted, or with a lemon you can't complain about.

"I'll show you a short cut." The driver who lets a passenger show him a short cut all too often winds up lost and out of sorts.

"Let me show you an easy way to do that." It may be an easier way for the other person, but much harder for you than the way you're familiar with.

"You must look up this friend of mine when you are in such-and-such a place." It isn't likely the friend of a friend is going to be elated over having to play host to a total stranger. If he is elated he'll probably be a bore you'll wish you had never looked up.

"The best thing to do for a cold is . . ." You can be pretty sure that the best thing to do for a cold or any other ailment is NOT to take second-hand medical advice.

"Why don't you do that yourself instead of hiring it done, and save money?" If you were an adept do-it-yourselfer you would have thought of doing it yourself. If you aren't, chances are the job is a lot harder than your helpful friends led you to believe.

There's a nice young man I want you to meet." On second thought, perhaps you had better take a chance on this one—but don't be disappointed if the nice young man is a dud you have trouble discouraging. Most would-be matchmakers think any two persons of the opposite sex who aren't married are sure to be "just right" for each other.

Others who serve on this committee and who were present included William Slater, Donald Shaver, Harvey Wright, and Rowland Saunders.

Charles Koch was unable to be present.

A film furnished by the AT&T, "Telstar," was shown, and chess, checkers and Pass-word were among the games played during the evening.

State Financial Condition Like Days Before '59

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A tax research organization said today the present condition of state finances was "ominously similar" to the situation that existed before income, gasoline, cigarette, and estate taxes were raised in 1959.

The statement was issued by Manfred Meisenkothen, a research analyst for the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey Inc. of New York.

Asks to Speak

Meisenkothen was one of approximately 120 persons who asked for speaking time today at the opening session of a two-day public hearing on the $2.88-billion budget Gov. Rockefeller has asked the Legislature to approve for fiscal 1963-64.

Today's hearing was limited to the local assistance portion of the budget. Thursday's session will deal with the proposed spending for state purposes and capital construction.

Two-Day Discussion

The controversial question of proposed increases in state charges for liquor licenses and motor-vehicle registrations was listed for discussion both days.

Liquor industry and automobile club representatives prepared to blast the proposals.

In a statement prepared for delivery at the hearing, Meisenkothen said that in fiscal 1958-59 there was a gap of $182 million between

4 Cops Return To Posts, Used Too Much Force

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Four city patrolmen, suspended last month for allegedly using too much force in making an arrest, were back on the job today amid a sit-in demonstration by a group of citizens objecting to the treatment of the Negro arrested.

The four police officers were reinstated Tuesday night by Chief William M. Lombard, who said they had been given written reprimands "for not following proper and acceptable police procedures."

Six members of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE)—three whites and three Negroes—staged a sit-in demonstration at police headquarters to protest the reinstatement.

A spokesman for CORE said the six, including two Protestant ministers and a rabbi, had decided on the action informally among themselves. The spokesman said the group wanted immediate publication of the results of the investigation made by the city administration.

The patrolmen are Vito D'Ambrasio, Albert Bussendorf, Louis Genovese and Gerald Gentile. They were suspended Feb. 9 after A. C. White, 46, a Rochester foundry worker, said they had used excessive force in arresting him Jan. 26.

White was charged with driving while intoxicated, third-degree assault, resisting arrest and driving without a license. He is free in bail, pending court action.

Police said the demonstrators were "sitting about quietly" and had caused no trouble.

2 Persons Hurt As School Bus And Car Collide

Two persons were injured at 4:15 p. m. Tuesday when the car in which they were riding was involved in a collision with a Pine Hill Bus Corp. school bus on Sawkill Road at the intersection of Ruby Road, Town of Kingston.

Trooper Thomas Crowley of the Kingston sub-station reported Harry Long, 65, of Morey Hill Road, Town of Kingston, was driving his car north on Sawkill Road and rounding a curve when it was in collision with a bus operated by Charles Stevens Jr., 35, of RD 2, Kingston.

Long suffered injuries of both knees. His wife, Margaret, 65, received a fractured right leg. Both were taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's Ambulance service.

Troopers said the bus skidded on a curve into the opposite lane and collided with the left front of the Long car.

How Dummy Ironclad Spooked Rebs

In manner of the day, contemporary artist lettered editorial comment, "Deluded People Gave In," on wheel housing of his drawing of Union's dummy ironclad.

War on the Mississippi was marked by battles between great, chunky ironclads. But one of the most successful river engagements can be credited to a barge with barrels for smokestacks and logs for cannons.

The idea of sending a dummy ironclad into service was conceived by the Union's Adm. David Porter. The mission was intended to frighten away the Confederates near Vicksburg, Miss., who were trying to salvage the Union ironclad Indianola, which had sunk in shallow water.

The Indianola was a fine prize. Its enormous 11-inch cannon and a battery of smaller guns would have made an impressive addition to the Confederate river fleet.

Porter describes the construction of his "ironclad": "I set the whole squadron at work, and made a raft of logs 300 feet long, with sides to it, two huge wheel-houses and a formidable log casemate (gun chamber), from the portholes of which appeared sundry wooden guns . . . two smokestacks of hogsheds completed the illusion."

The dummy was set adrift in the Mississippi on Feb. 24, 1863. The Confederate sentinels at Vicksburg were astonished to see the monster loom into view. Their cannons thundered a deadly welcome, but the shots went right through it. The Confederates never realized that they were bombarding an empty barge.

The current then carried the dummy within sight of a Confederate ironclad Queen of the West, captured earlier from the Union. This ship turned and chugged a retreat in the face of the unknown Union monster. As the "Queen" ran past the Indianola which the Confederates were desperately trying to salvage, she sounded the alarm.

Fearing that the sunken vessel would fall into Union hands, the Confederates blew up everything that remained above the water line.

Word of the disaster spread fast, and the humiliation in the South was deep. The Richmond Examiner scornfully recounted the episode:

"Here was perhaps the finest ironclad in the Western waters, captured after a heroic struggle, and destined to join the Queen of the West in a series of victories. Next we hear that she was of necessity blown up. Laugh and hold your sides . . . Blown up because . . . a mud-scow . . . is floated down the river."

Antenna Talk Is Set For Mike, Key Club

Henry Greenburg of Channel Master Corp., Ellenville, will speak to members of the Ulster County Mike and Key Club Thursday night.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p. m. at the Court House, Wall Street.

Greenburg will speak on Amateur Radio Antenna Systems.

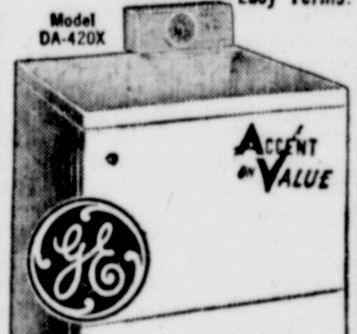

Trucker Injured

A Dutchess County truck driver was injured at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday, when the vehicle he was driving was involved in a sideswipe collision with another truck on Route 199 about one half mile east of South Road, Town of Milan. Rhinebeck state police said the trucks were operated by Edward Nielson, 46, of Stanfordville, and Charles A. Canevari, 41, of Irontdale Road, Millerton. Nielson was taken to Northern Dutchess Hospital by the Red Hook Rescue Squad. He suffered chest injuries. Troopers reported Nielson was driving in a westerly direction of Route 199 and attempting to pass a stalled vehicle and Canevari was driving east when the trucks sideswiped.

Publishers Talk Today on Shorter Hours in Gotham

NEW YORK (AP) — Publishers of New York's nine closed newspapers and leaders of eight non-striking newspaper unions confer today on the subject of shorter hours.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner called the meeting. The publishers and leaders of the striking printers' union have not met since talks broke down nine days ago.

The contract dispute between the union and the publishers has left New Yorkers without their regular newspapers for 2½ months.

Printers Won't Attend

The AFL-CIO International Typographical Union struck four of the papers 75 days ago. The other five dailies shut down at the same time.

In Cleveland, Ohio, strikes by five unions have closed that city's two dailies—the Plain Dealer and the Press & News—for 12 weeks. The New York printers will not attend today's talks on the length of the work week because "their position is well known," Wagner said. The printers want their work week cut from 36½ to 35 hours.

Wagner conferred for nearly four hours Tuesday with union negotiators headed by Bertram A. Powers, president of the printers' local.

There was no indication when both sides will be brought together again for face-to-face discussions.

When Powers called his 3,000 printers out on strike Dec. 8, nearly 17,000 other newspaper people also were idled.

Cleveland Vote Friday

In Cleveland, one of the five striking unions — the AFL-CIO Cleveland Newspaper Guild — is scheduled to vote Friday on undisclosed terms of a peace pact offered by publishers. The guild has given tentative approval of the new contract.

Four other Cleveland newspaper unions remain on strike. They are the AFL-CIO printers, mailers and machinists unions, and the independent International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

Ask That Voters

system used in Kingston or the outmoded non-personal registration system practiced in the other areas of Ulster County.

Saves Much Work

PPR has been endorsed by party workers who find that in the areas where it is practiced they can spend their time on elections rather than getting people to register.

The voters also like it because it affords them the convenience and yet assures that honest votes are not canceled by fraudulent ones.

Most elections officials who use PPR endorse it because it centralizes this essential election procedure on a county-wide basis.

State legislation provides that costs of installation may be written off over a 10-year period with bonds. Those in the first year costs do rise somewhat because of equipment purchases statistics show a leveling off of costs by the second year, in some instances actually affecting savings.

Ask for Support

At the present time 80 per cent of New York State voters register under PPR. If the present mandatory, state-wide bills for PPR are passed all the citizens of this state can then register under a single, safe, convenient and uniform system.

The League of Women Voters urges all citizens to follow the lead of Mayor Schwenk in requesting that these bills be brought to the floor by writing to Senator MacNeil Mitchell, Senate Office Building, Albany 1, N. Y. Assembly Office Building, Albany 1, N. Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued a moderate decline today.

Losses of key stocks went from fractions to about a point.

In addition to spotty business news, the list had to contend with the fact that stock markets will be closed Friday for Washington's birthday, making a three-day weekend. Traders are usually cautious well in advance of a long weekend.

Motors, steels, oils, airlines and aerospace issues were among the losers.

U.S. Smelting which started 6½ points yesterday, was delayed a half hour in opening. On an initial transaction of 10,000 shares the stock rose ½ to 88½.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were irregularly lower. Corporate bonds were steady.

YMCA Directors Reelect Baltz At Annual Meet

The Board of Directors of the Kingston YMCA held their annual dinner meeting at Trinity Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone Streets Tuesday evening, and Chester A. Baltz Jr., was elected president to succeed himself for the third year. The Rev. John H. Frensen gave the invocation.

Prescott C. Newell was elected treasurer for one year. Re-elected were John R. Shultz Jr., vice president and Bernard J. Mizel, secretary. A slate of three trustees to succeed themselves for a period of three years was submitted by the chairman of nominating committee Clifford A. Henze. Unanimously approved were: Chester A. Baltz Sr., Alfred Schmid and G. Herbert McKay.

President Baltz in behalf of the Board of directors presented General Secretary Louis H. Schafer with an electric razor for his 20 years of service. Baltz also presented a dozen of American Beauty roses to Mrs. Schafer.

Ernest M. Ford, executive secretary of the State YMCA spoke on "Marks of an Educated Man."

About the educated man in the 1963. A special 12-page report of the 1962 activities that was presented to each person present was received by the secretary. Outstanding was the large attendance at the YMCA Day Camp in Shokan this past year. The initiating of the first week-end family camp, whereby all persons registered could use the entire camp facilities on Saturday, Sunday and holidays.

President Baltz introduced others present: Trustees, Lloyd R. LeFevre, Ellis H. Griffith; guests, Dr. Dale Lake, president of Community College, Jack Darcy, executive secretary of Community Chest, and Robert C. Murray, past board member; health club members, Harry Mahood, William G. Davis, Richard Wensel and son, Richard Jr.; three volunteer repair men and carpenters at the YMCA Day Camp, Carl Schock, Wilbur Turk and Hank Albrecht. The three staff secretaries: Schafer, Leon I. Van Heusen, youth secretary and E. Steve Orozco, physical director were also mentioned.

Other board members present were: John H. Haukenbeck, Clarence H. Buddenhagen, William S. Keyser, Henry Millonig and Frederick H. Stang.

Schafer announced that the president and himself would soon be naming the committees for route is completed in the late nineteen sixties. There is also ready access to the mid-New England area by way of Route 199 and the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge or by way of Route 44 east from New Paltz. Route 28 will soon give a convenient, improved route to the western and southwestern part of New York state.

Lists Industries

Referring to the industrial growth of Ulster County the report states:

"Ulster County has been fortunate in having a good amount of diversified industry. IBM has been useful with its Kingston facilities in attracting smaller, so-called satellite manufacturers into the area. This has also been true of the Channel Master Corporation at Ellenville and the Rotron Manufacturing Company of Woodstock. Another growing and comparatively new addition to Ulster's industrial family is Ferrocube of America which will certainly attract more attention among the electronic manufacturers. Part of the county's natural resources are responsible for two cement plants and three new light aggregate plants.

Ulster County can be proud to have one of the oldest cement mills in the country which is also one of only two cement mills in the nation using natural cement."

To Use River Again

The report points to another natural resource which will see a renewal of transportation interest in the future, the Hudson River.

"The cement and light aggregate producers are increasingly focusing their attention to the use of this natural waterway for their metropolitan markets," the committee notes.

Ulster County, also has a very good rail and truck service linked to all parts of the United States and Canada with the New York Central's West Shore Division freight line serving the eastern side, the Wallkill Valley the southern portion of the county while the New York New Haven and Hartford Railroad serves the southern end and gives convenient freight service to New England.

Most of the major truck companies operate into the county with connections for all parts of the northern hemisphere.

Has Recreation Facilities

The report points out the importance of the recreation facilities in Ulster County.

"The recreation and resort industry continues to be important to Ulster County and with more attention being given to year-round business due to improved ski facilities it is expected that this part of the county's economy will continue to grow. Good highways will be most important to the future expansion of this industry and this means local town and county roads as well of the state highways."

Members of the committee point out: "The continued growth of the area and the development of its industry will continue to depend upon a willing and sensibly adequate worker supply. Much of the quality of this worker supply will greatly depend upon the availability of educational facilities. This means educational instruction not only at the intermediate and college level. The county has a good higher education college at New Paltz, Kingston Consolidated Schools has an excellent vocational-trade program which is of great

Civil Defense Booklet Available

ALBANY — A new booklet summarizing emergency steps for coping with nuclear attack was released today by the New York State Civil Defense Commission. Material in the booklet was written by Dan Brigham, Military Affairs Editor of the New York Journal-American, which published the original series.

In a letter to J. Kingsbury Smith, publisher, who gave the state permission to reprint, Lt. Gen. F. W. Farrell, State Civil Defense director, stated, "This booklet contains one of the best summations available of procedures to be followed in event of a nuclear attack. Its careful organization and very readable style will make it a useful handbook for residents in all areas of the state."

In the introduction, Brigham warns "Above all, don't panic," and then lists the step-by-step procedures individuals can follow at home, in transit and at work in event of nuclear attack. The concluding section describes protective measures to be taken at schools.

Copies of the booklet may be obtained at local civil defense offices throughout the state, or by writing the Civil Defense Commission at 162 Washington Avenue, Albany 1.

his 1957 mandate expires he will be in the presidency illegally and that Venezuela and the Dominican Republic are prepared to withdraw diplomatic recognition. Other nations would be expected to follow, isolating Duvalier.

Violence Certain

Almost certainly there would be violence. Moderates among Duvalier's foes are not united. The extreme leftist element, however, is organized, informants report. Communists are among the student groups attempting to touch off violence and seize the leadership.

Duvalier's sudden departure could leave the poverty-stricken nation 90 per cent of whose people cannot read or write, on the edge of civil war.

The army, distrustful by Duvalier, is poor in weapons. The arms are in the hands of Duvalier's militia, a semi-military organization the president uses to suppress internal opposition.

A struggle for power involving the army and the militia would leave the country vulnerable to operations from outside.

Castroite elements inside Haiti likely would join forces quickly with infiltrators in a strike for power. Communists already in powerful positions would help them, the informants report.

OFFICE CAT

By Junius Trade Mark Reg.

A member of one of the theatrical clubs tells of a stranded but still haughty, leading man who was obliged to put up at a dilapidated country hotel. He glanced frowningly about the office, reluctantly signed the register, and took the brass key from the proprietor.

Is there water in my room? he demanded.

There was, replied the proprietor, but I had the roof fixed.

Troubles are often the tools by which God fashions us for better things.

Jack, dear, before our wedding, I wish you would see a doctor.

Why should I? I am well, except for a touch of dyspepsia.

That's just it, I'd like you to get a certificate from him which would show that your dyspepsia antedated our marriage.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Broil Halibut Steaks With Fruit

HALIBUT steaks, broiled with orange slices, bananas and lemon juice, make a delightfully different Lenten dish.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Lent begins Feb. 27, when

Ash Wednesday starts the season for meatless dishes. Eggs and cheese are excellent sources of top quality protein to take the place of meat and poultry protein.

Dry beans and peas also are good sources, particularly when combined with cheese or milk.

Fish and seafood are, of course, the most frequently used protein sources during Lent. Unfortunately, some cooks have not yet learned how to broil fish.

Perhaps the following novel and delicious recipe will serve as an introduction to that gentle art.

HALIBUT STEAKS

BROILED WITH FRUIT

(serves 6)

2 pounds halibut steaks,

fresh or frozen

Melted butter or margarine

Juice of a lemon

Salt, pepper and pap-

rika

1 orange peeled and sec-

tioned

3 bananas, sliced

If halibut is frozen, let stand at room temperature 30 minutes.

Place on greased preheated broiler pan about 2 inches from heat. Brush with melted butter and squeeze half of lemon juice over steaks. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Broil 5 to 8 minutes, or until slightly brown.

Turn carefully. Arrange banana slices around steaks and place 1 or more orange sections on each steak. Brush steaks and fruit with melted butter; squeeze remaining lemon juice over all.

Sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Broil 5 to 8 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork.

BROILED HALIBUT WITH

MARINARA SAUCE

Follow directions for broiling

halibut steaks which appears in

broiled steaks with Marinara

Sauce.

MARINARA SAUCE

2 tablespoons salt and oil

1 cup chopped celery

1 teaspoon garlic salt

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon sugar

1/2 teaspoon cayenne

1/2 teaspoon sugar

1 teaspoon oregano

1/2 teaspoon basil

2 tablespoons chopped

parsley

1 No. 2 1/2 can tomatoes

Heat salad oil in a large frying pan. Add celery and cook until tender. Add remaining ingredients and cook over low heat until liquid is reduced and mixture is slightly thick, about 30 minutes. Serve over broiled halibut steaks. Makes enough sauce for 4 servings of halibut.

Yule Tree Stays

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — City fathers will permit a Christmas tree 50 feet tall to remain in Clinton Square in the heart of the business district—for a while.

Paul A. Wells, city parks commissioner, said Tuesday the cut tree, stripped of its trimmings, could continue to stand in the park as long as it looked respectable.

Businessmen in the area asked that the tree be left in the park. In previous years, the city's

Sunday Estonian Day

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Sunday will be "Estonian Independence Day" in New York State, by proclamation of Gov. Rockefeller. Rockefeller said Tuesday that Estonians "have suffered under the oppressive yoke of other Communist taskmasters but have held fast to their confidence that Estonia will regain her freedom and independence."

Christmas trees have been removed in early January.

Civil Rights Bill to Embody Planks of GOP Platform

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Up-state New York Republicans say they will introduce Thursday a civil rights bill prepared by GOP members of the House Judiciary Committee.

Reps. Harold C. Ostertag of Attica and Frank J. Horton of Rochester said Tuesday their legislation embodies the civil rights planks of the 1960 Republican platform.

It would:

1. Establish a permanent Civil Rights Commission.
2. Instruct the Census Bureau to compile voting statistics from every state based on race, color and national origin.
3. Permit the attorney general to initiate school-desegregation court suits.
4. Offer federal aid to help states and communities desegregate their public schools.
5. Create a commission on equal employment opportunity.

6. Establish a six-grade education, rather than a literacy test, as a qualification for voting in federal elections.

Ostertag said the bill avoids "grandiose promises and earnestly seeks to advance the cause of civil rights in a constructive fashion." Horton called it a sensible bill "and one that I feel should be enacted by this Congress."

Teener Explains How He Slew Dad and Four

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) —

A high school youth whose broodings, over his place in the family circle exploded into a burst of gunfire, has told authorities how he shot and killed his father and stepmother and her three children.

Harry Hebard, 16, described by his minister as "a good, quiet boy who was real active in the church," apparently had planned the slayings for some time, according to Dist. Atty. Robert Warren.

Gives Up Weekly

The boy was scheduled for arraignment today on first-degree murder charges. Warren said he will seek a psychiatric examination for him.

Harry, a high school junior, surrendered meekly Tuesday about six hours after the bodies were found in the family home.

Killed by shots from an automatic pistol and rifle were the boy's stepmother, Joyce, 35; her three children by a previous marriage, John Rudell, 15, and Judy and Janice, 11-year-old twins; and Harry's three - married father, Jack Hebard, 38, a parttime auto-man.

The father, an airline freight foreman, used the professional name "Lucky O'Hara" and was well-known on the Midwest fair circuit.

Always Moody: School

The boy told the district attorney he "had a general feeling of being left out of the family circle." He declined to see his minister, the Rev. David Thompson, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Mr. Thompson said he was "aware of trouble" involving the boy and his family. A spokes-

When the typical American father wants to scold his children today, he might "read the riot act." The allusion is to the actual Riot Act decreed in 1716 by George I of England. It was a law that police officials were supposed to read before breaking up a disturbance. The individual penalty for not stopping the riot could be servitude for life.

Ithaca Man Found Dead

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Thomas Bannister, 68, of Ithaca, was found dead Tuesday night in the garage attached to his home, a victim of carbon-monoxide poisoning.

Police said Bannister apparently had started his automobile engine and had left it running while he shoveled snow from his driveway. He was overcome by the fumes when he returned to the garage, police said.

YMCA Cage Stars to Collide With Port Chester Saturday

Members of the Kingston YMCA All Stars, selected from both divisions of the Winter Basketball, will tackle the powerful P and P Chevron Club of Port Chester in an exhibition game Saturday, 8:30 o'clock, at the local "Y".

The visitors have a 10-2 record and captured the annual Jewish Christmas tourney title. Included on their roster are Paul Costa, a football ace at Notre Dame; Jerry Rapaport, ex-Ithaca college cage ace; Rickey Geldart, four year veteran from Roanoke College. Others on the roster are Bobby Johnson, Bobby Hammond, Rico DosAnjos and Larry Rapaport.

Two preliminary tilts are slated. In the 6 o'clock opener, the YMCA Leaders Club will meet Wiltwyck School (ages 12 to 14). Trailway Cafeteria and Tucker Poultry will collide at 7:15 in a regularly scheduled "B" division contest.

Never Clipped

HIALEAH, Fla. (NEA) — Kelso, America's champion race horse now at Hialeah Park for the first time, has never had a haircut.

"We've just let him shed excess hair which brushes off," explains trainer Carl Hanford. "He might not like all that whirling."

KHS, Monticello Tilt Slated For Tonight

Kingston High School's scheduled DUSO game with Monticello was postponed last night. The two teams will collide tonight at the Kate Walton Field House with the jayvee contest slated to start at 6:30.

Other action was postponed last night because of the combination snow and rain, which started to fall late in the day.

The Middletown at Liberty DUSO engagement will be played tonight. Poughkeepsie's game at Port Jervis will be held on Friday.

No new dates have been set for the Lourdes at Pine Plains, the Pine Bush at Highland and the Red Hook at New Paltz contests.

Tain't So, He Says

Sanford Bars Giants Contract Propaganda

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Burly Jack Sanford, 24-game winner for the National League champion San Francisco Giants, revealed today that he had pitched the final week of the 1962 baseball season with a 2-inch cut in his heel from an operation to remove an abscess.

Currently involved in a contract cold war with the Giants, Sanford put a couple of hot coals into the dispute Tuesday when he told the San Francisco Chronicle of his operation and implied that the Giants' pitching pattern was being used as a weapon against a hefty raise.

"Few people know this," said Sanford from his Duxbury, Mass., home, "but just before I beat St. Louis 4-2 in the final week I had an operation on my heel to remove an abscess. A 2-inch laceration. It hurt. Toward the end I also worked with a cold that drained me. Yet I worked something like three games in six days."

The fastballing right-hander, who won 16 consecutive games at one stretch as the Giants made their run at the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers, then fired a verbal broadside.

"Chub (Giants Vice President, Chub Feeney) mentioned I didn't complete many games last year. Thirteen. But that was the ordered pattern. Pitch as hard as I can as long as I can and then let the bullpen clean up."

Sanford's asking price for the 1963 campaign is believed to be in the neighborhood of $35,000, a boost of about $10,000. Sanford says he and the Giants are "far apart," which is taken to mean about $5,000.

While Sanford was jolting the Giants, the Cincinnati Reds, who finished third last year, received a shock from a different direction when they were notified that outfielder Vada Pinson had undergone an appendix operation and would miss the spring training period.

Several players, meanwhile, signed Tuesday. Catcher Elston Howard and pitcher Bill Stafford came to terms with the Yankees, pitcher Billy O'Dell with the Giants and pitcher Lew Burdette with Milwaukee.

Howard, who also plays in the outfield and at first base as needed, reportedly signed for $45,000 and Stafford for an estimated $22,000. No figure was given for O'Dell, but the 36-year-old Burdette, who slumped to a 10-9 mark with the Braves last year, agreed to terms reportedly calling for $40,000.

In an afternoon game at Boston, the champion Celtics also put on a late surge to win their fourth straight, 129-126 over Cincinnati. In the other NBA game scheduled Tuesday San Francisco scored a home court 111-109 victory over Los Angeles.

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Harry Dayoff, a former inter-collegiate football referee voted into the football Hall of Fame, died Sunday at Harrisburg Polyclinic Hospital. He was 66 and had been hospitalized for one week.

They Try It Again

Sport Club Opposes Bronx In State Cup Finals Friday

Weather permitting, the Kingston Sport Club soccer team and Bronx Palermos try it again in the New York State finals of the U. S. Amateur Cup series, Friday at 2 p. m. at International Field, 331st Street and 31st Avenue, College Point, L. I.

With any kind of break in weather, the contest expects a large turnout of fans in that soccer-minded area in the metropolitan district.

Both teams go into the championship final with impressive records. Palermos are defending champions in the crack Italian-American League in the Bronx. The Kingston booters are defending champions and riding on a 23-game winning streak in the Central New York Soccer Association.

Despite the long hiatus between games, Coach Bob Graves has kept his charges in top physical condition, with several indoor workouts since the end of the outdoor season. The team has practiced at least once a week during the interim.

Victory Important

The winner of Friday's elimination advances to the fifth round of the U. S. Amateur Cup series, which is symbolic of the national championship. Soccer experts see Friday's winner taking a giant step toward the U. S. finals, since the New York teams are reputed to be the strongest in the country.

The Sport Club booters have played inspired soccer en route to Friday's moment of decision. One of their most impressive victories in the eliminations was a 5-2 overtime decision over Pathology, L. I., last year's finalists.

A chartered bus for Sport Club fans will leave the Park Diner lot in Kingston Friday at 10:30 a. m. Reservations can still be made by calling the clubhouse at Oehler's Mountain Lodge any time during the day.

Name Jim Trimble Montreal Coach

MONTREAL (AP)—Jim Trimble, once coach of the year in the National Football League, is the new head coach of the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian League.

Trimble was named Tuesday to the job left vacant by Perry Moss' resignation three weeks ago. While terms are not disclosed, it was reported the 44-year-old McKeesport, Pa., native got a long-term contract.

Trimble went to Canadian football in 1956 after four years as head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles of the NFL. He was NFL coach of the year in 1952.

Detroit Skater Vanishes Again

DETROIT (AP)—Howie Young, the Detroit Red Wings' wandering problem child, returned home Tuesday night and was scheduled to report for practice today after vanishing for the second time this season.

Young missed practice Tuesday and Red Wing officials were unable to locate him until they called his home again Tuesday night and were told by his wife that he had returned.

The 25-year-old defenseman's return came a few hours before National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell announced in Montreal that he wanted to hear Young's version of the fireworks in last Sunday's game with Montreal before taking any action against him.

Young drew a total of 27 minutes in penalties, setting an NHL record of 210 penalty minutes in a season.

The outburst netted him three separate automatic fines totaling $100 and made his case subject to view by Campbell, who could fine him further or suspend him. Young first bolted the club for three days last month after a game in Chicago.

Tiger Prepares For Fight With Fullmer Saturday

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Middleweight champion Dick Tiger switched to a blistering body attack Tuesday as he increased his training total to 89 rounds for Saturday night's title fight with Gene Fullmer.

The Nigerian titleholder went two rounds with lanky Al Swiderski, a Las Vegas middleweight, and three rounds with Willie Turner, Fresno, Calif. Tiger, clad in heavy sweat-clothes, said he will make the 160-pound limit without difficulty. "I may even come in a little under," the champion remarked.

The challenger, Fullmer, lacked the luster he showed in Monday's workout when he floored sparring mate, Ed Hickman of Los Angeles.

Fullmer concentrated on left jabs and combinations as he sparred four rounds with Salt Lake City middleweight, Milo Savage. The West Jordan, Utah, boxer has sparred 97 rounds to date and now weighs 162.

Both fighters wind up sparring Wednesday but will loosen up Thursday.

The odds remain 3-1 in favor of the champion.

Second Ranked Duke Wins 14th Straight

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Duke Blue Devils, boasting the nation's longest winning string in major college basketball ranks, have a special incentive going for them. They're hoping to emulate the feat of North Carolina's national champions in 1956-57.

Second-ranked Duke turned back Maryland 76-70 at College Park, Md., Tuesday night and kept its streak in tact. The victory was the Blue Devils' 14th straight and gave them a perfect 13-0 Atlantic Coast Conference record with one regular season league game remaining.

The Dixie Dandies, whose overall mark is 20-2, have just one league game left before heading into the sudden-death ACC tournament in Raleigh, starting Feb. 28. A victory over North Carolina at home Saturday night would leave Duke with a 14-0 league record. In nine previous ACC seasons, only one team has gone through without losing. North Carolina in 1956-57.

No other members of the Top Ten were scheduled Tuesday night but a number of key conference games were played.

Kansas State climbed into a tie for first place with idle Oklahoma State in the Big Eight Conference with 7-2 league records. The Wildcats topped Kansas 67-54 at Lawrence as little Max Moss scored 18 points.

Host Texas boosted its league-leading Southwest Conference record to 10-0 and its over-all mark to 15-5 in knocking Texas A&M out of a share of second place, 83-73. The Aggies dropped to third at 6-4 as Rice moved into the runner-up spot at 7-3 with a 74-70 verdict at home over Baylor.

Georgia Tech whipped Tennessee 72-60 at Knoxville for its 19th victory in 23 starts and kept its Southeastern Conference title hopes alive.

Elsewhere: Southern Methodist outlasted Texas Christian 109-98, Arkansas subdued Texas Tech 83-78, Drake took a 65-65 squeaker over North Texas, William and Mary turned back George Washington 79-75, South Carolina upended Clemson 51-45, DePaul crushed Gannon 83-48, Fordham posted a 78-66 verdict over CUNY, Villanova outclassed Buffalo 69-47, Miami of Ohio vanquished Marshall 66-59, Southern Illinois stunned Western Kentucky 95-73 and St. Mary's, Calif., defeated Santa Clara 81-76.

Storm Leaves Trail of Slush

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A mixture of snow and rain left a trail of slush today from New York City to the Canadian border, hampering highway travel and forcing cancellation of some airline flights.

The heaviest snowfall was reported at Albany, where five inches piled up overnight. Flights in and out of Albany Airport Tuesday night were cancelled and buses ran behind schedules. Numerous minor skidding accidents were reported.

The storm, centered over Boston Bay, had tapered off in most sections by early morning. Temperatures were generally in the 20s and 30s across the state.

The weather bureau said snow flurries and brief squalls could be expected today in Western New York and in snow belt regions east of Lake Ontario.

Warmer Air Is Due by Weekend

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The extended forecast, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from 7 p.m. today to 7 p.m. Monday:

Eastern New York — Temperatures will continue to average a few degrees below normal. Colder at beginning followed by some moderation about Saturday or Sunday. Precipitation will be mainly light, occurring as occasional snow flurries across state and more frequent flurries or squalls near Great Lakes.

Western New York — Temperatures to average 12 to 15 degrees below normal. Cold throughout early next week with lowest readings expected about Sunday. Precipitation will occur, chiefly as snow flurries, heaviest near lower Great Lakes.

Temperature normals—Daytime highs 27-35; nighttime lows 10-20, except 7-12 in north country.

QUESTION: Recently some friends of ours had a serious fire. When the firemen had put out the fire, our friends wanted to go into the least damaged part of the house to move some furniture to their garage which had not burned. However, somebody told them if they moved anything the insurance company might not pay for their loss. Is this correct?

ANSWER: Far from it. Actually it was the duty of your friends to move their possessions to a safe place if they could do so without danger to themselves. People who suffer a fire loss are obligated to do anything possible to prevent further loss to undamaged or partially damaged property.

The Independence carrying a crew in excess of 3500 men was on a six months deployment to the Mediterranean visiting ports in such countries as Italy, Spain, France, Greece, and Turkey. Utilities Suffer As Storm Hits

While the Ulster County area escaped the brunt of a predicted four to five-inch snowstorm, a couple of inches of heavy, wet snow took its toll.

Electric service was interrupted in the Town of Esopus area from Connelly to Esopus. Central Hudson reported today, when heavy snow caused local service wires to break and falling tree limbs broke wires in other areas. Telephone service was delayed for a time when an overload of calls went in. Cablevision service was out for about 50 minutes from 7:15 to about 8 o'clock due to power failure.

Central Hudson reported damage at the Ulster Park sub-station had caused interruption in service in the area and that approximately 1,000 customers were without power for varying lengths of time. All damage was repaired by 2 a. m. today. In all about 30 causes of trouble were located and repaired.

Ulster County Highway Department sent out plows, sanders and salters when highways became slippery. By early morning roads were in good shape and as the sun came out snow and ice melted improving travel.

Coal Dip Hurts Economy

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Coal production in Pennsylvania keeps going down, and as a direct result the state's economy is hurting, according to the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia.

The bank blames increased use of gas and oil for coal's decline. And it says atomic energy, while not yet a serious threat "is steadily making progress."

In a report released Tuesday, the bank said, "When the coal business ran into trouble, Pennsylvania ran into a lot of trouble because the Commonwealth was the country's original coal bin."

NHRR Faces Quiz

WASHINGTON (AP)—The New Haven Railroad undergoes more cross-examination today in its efforts to convince the Interstate Commerce Commission it will suffer a damaging loss of income if left out of merger plans for the Pennsylvania and New York Central.

Vice President Charles E. Ragland of the New Haven line was expected to resume the witness stand. Ragland testified last week that the railroad would take a severe freight loss if forced to compete with a merged Penn-Central system.

Galbraith to Quit

Galbraith was professor of economics at Harvard before President Kennedy appointed him ambassador to India. He will have been here two years in April.

Authorities Quiz Wandering Boys, Had Left Home

Two nine-year-old boys trudging along Route 209 during the blinding snowstorm Tuesday, stopped off at a Hurley fruit stand for a respite. The proprietor, suspicious of any one allowing such small boys out in the storm, made inquiry as to where they were going.

The boys reported they had been brought to Kingston from Wurtsboro by their father who had gone on to New York. They stopped at the Governor Clinton Hotel to await arrival of a relative who was to take them back to Wurtsboro. When the relative failed to appear they started to walk "home." Not too well satisfied with the story, County Investigator Thomas Mayone was summoned and after questioning the boys, found their fantastic story a manufactured one. They said they were brothers, each nine years old. One had extremely dark hair and the other was a blond.

Checking their unusual story County Investigator Mayone learned they had run away from a local home and actually were attempting to get back to Wurtsboro where they had once lived.

It was also learned five other youths had also taken "French leave." They had boarded a freight train at Broadway with the hopes of "riding the rods" to some distant point. However, the train ground to a stop in the Kingston North Yards. It was only a switching operation. Two of the boys were located by local police and returned to their foster home. Three of the boys were at last reports among the missing.

New England Gets Brunt of Storm; 8-Inch Mass. Snow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stormy weather, with heavy snow, sleet and strong winds, lashed wide sections of the Northeast today after pounding many areas in the South and east central states.

The severe storm, centered near Nantucket, Mass., dumped more than eight inches of snow in Worcester, Mass., and seven inches in Windsor Locks, Conn., and Portland, Maine.

The Weather Bureau posted heavy snow and hazardous driving warnings in central and western Massachusetts through northern New England. Gale warnings were displayed from Eastport, Maine, to Block Island, R.I. Tides are averaging about two feet above normal from northern New Jersey northward.

The storm swept across eastern, south central and northern sections of New York State. Some airplane flights were canceled in Albany, which reported more than five inches of snow.

A mixture of rain and snow ended in New York Tuesday night, leaving about an inch of slush.

Snowfall was heavier in suburban areas.

Driving conditions were hazardous throughout the storm belt. Temperatures were mostly in the 20s and 30s.

The storm system brought heavy rains in the Southeast and damaging winds in central Florida Tuesday. Skies cleared today, with a little warmer weather in Northern areas and some cooler air in the Southern sections.

Light snow and sleet hit Michigan while light rain splashed areas in the northern third of the nation.

Only subzero temperatures this morning were in northern Minnesota and North Dakota. Low marks included -15 in Grand Forks, N.D., 13 in Bismarck, N.D. and -10 in International Falls, Minn.
